Battered victim of Sunday-night Malahat crack-up with five other teen-agers, 17-year-old girl is lifted gently to stretcher by Langford firemen and passersby (left). Another victim, the boy lying on car seat (centre), is comforted by other motorists before ambulance arrived. In an earlier smash, also on the Malahat, the car at right went over a 50-foot bank, seriously injuring occupants. Brian Callaway of Victoria, himself an accident victim earlier last week, examines the wreckage. Ambulance taking injured to hospital also was involved in two accidents.—(Photos by Robin Clarke.)

2 Car Wrecks Send Eight To Hospital

Two auto wrecks on the Malahat sent eight people to hospital here Sunday and nearly wrecked the Langford Ambulance on both emergency runs.

In the first crash at 7.30 p.m. an Alberni couple whose car was being towed by another car plunged 50 feet over a rock-strewn bank at Niagara Canyon about 19 miles north of Victoria.

They were identified as Edward Ernest Thurley, 53, in good condition, and his wife, Mary, 43, in fair condition with multiple injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Six teen-agers from Victoria, five of them still in hospital, received multiple injuries when their 1948 model car veered onto the shoulder of the Malahat at Tunnel Hill at 9 p.m., then went out of control.

Girl's Condition Described as 'Fair'

Linda Henley, 17, of 1722 Bay, was described as the most seriously hurt with head and other injuries. Her condition today was "fair" at St. Joseph's Hospital.

When police arrived five of the injured were strewn about the overturned car in the middle of the highway as other motorists and Victoria physician Dr. Jack Anderson attended them.

Others injured were identified as the driver, Francis Gilbert, 19, of 1250 Palmer, who was later discharged with knee and shoulder injuries; Dorothy Leard, 17, of 1502 Gladstone; Jim McMaster, 17, of 1128 Leonard; Bruce Whitten, 17, of 53 Wellington, and William Champion, 18, of 31 Wellington, all in good condition.

Stretcher cases Henley and Whitten and the Champion boy who was able to sit up after the accident, were taken

ISLAND MAN HIT BY CAR

COURTENAY — James Beston, 35, of Courtenay, who suffered two broken legs Saturday night when hit by a car, was reported today in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph's Hospital at Comox.

According to reports, he was hit while walking on the highway where it passes through the up-island city.

FULTON ANNOUNCES

Rivett-Carnac New RCMP Chief

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of deputy commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, 57, as the new commissioner of the RCMP was announced today by Justice Minister Fulton in the Commons.

Deputy commissioner Rivett-Carnac, now on retirement leave, succeeds Leonard Hanse Nicholson, 54, who resigned over police issues involved in the loggers' strike in Newfoundland.

The appointment is effective April 1.

Rivett-Carnac has been on retirement leave following completion of 35 years of service in the 5,300-man force. He now is a technical adviser in the commercial production of a series of television films dealing with the RCMP.

The government decided to ask him to remain on duty as RCMP commissioner because of his wide experience and knowledge of the force. He has served in virtually every Canadian region, including a hitch of duty in the northland. A native of Eastbourne, England, he served in the First World War as a teen-age ambulance driver with the Red Cross on the French front.

The tall, husky deputy commissioner is married and father of two daughters.

It was reported that he was selected from about a dozen candidates.

Commissioner Nicholson, 54, quit his $19,000-a-year post March 12 after the government declined to send RCMP reinforcements to Newfoundland to strengthen the RCMP division there on strike duty.

The commissioner said this refusal was a breach of the federal government's police contract with the Newfoundland administration. Justice Minister Fulton disagreed saying it was his responsibility to say whether reinforcements should be sent.

Mounties' Top Man Spent 7 Years Here

Charles Edward Rivett-Carnac was assistant commissioner in charge of "E" Division—with headquarters in Victoria and embracing all B.C.—from 1949 to 1956 when he was appointed deputy commissioner in Ottawa.

He arrived in Canada, from England, at the age of 23, determined to join the RCMP, but quite willing to become a logger if circumstances dictated.

At this time he had already packed in a fair share of "adventure." Son of a deputy inspector-general of police in India, he was educated in England and when just over 16 joined an ambulance unit attached to the French army. For about 18 months he helped carry wounded soldiers from the front line.

Then he spent three and a half years in India—running an elephant camp, gathering timber for tea boxes, manag-

SOMMERS JAIL APPEAL AWAITS TOP COURT TEST

VANCOUVER (CP) — The appeal of Robert Sommers and H. Wilson Gray against five-year sentences for bribery and conspiracy was postponed today until after an appeal against conviction is decided by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Angelo Branca, counsel for Sommers, applied for delay today after Mr. Justice F. A. Sheppard told counsel that the appeal against the sentences might mean the two would have to waive their rights to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Tibet Rebels Still Fighting

KALIMPONG, India-Tibet Frontier (UPI)—Anti-Communist fighting against Red Chinese invaders in Tibet is continuing and spreading to other areas than the capital city of Lhasa, Tibetan and other sources here believed today.

These sources in this terminus of the main trade route from Tibet in the foothills of the Himalaya Mountains discounted unconfirmed rumors Sunday that a cease-fire had been reached.

The sources said the Dalai Lama, spiritual and political leader of Tibet's theocratic government, is believed safe and the chances of his being placed under arrest or "spirited away" were considered highly improbable.

(Earlier, a report from Taipei, Formosa, quoted a Nationalist Chinese cabinet minister as saying that the anti-Communist revolt in Tibet had spread into Communist China. This official urged the free world to assist the Tibetan revolution lest it become another Hungary.)

NEHRU AID ASKED
The entire Tibetan community here—the largest outside of the ancient Himalayan kingdom—is making a determined bid to persuade Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru to intervene and "save Tibet."

Nehru, in a speech to Parliament in New Delhi today, said India would not intervene in the revolt against the Red Chinese. Nehru said the situation in Lhasa, where widespread fighting erupted last week, apparently had quieted down.

There are at least 10,000 Tibetans living in Kalimpong, including hundreds who fled from Communist domination.

This morning, 500 leaders from different Tibetan kiduks (social organizations) held a meeting for the first time to rally support for their countrymen.

LOST PLANE SIGHTED; 6 MEN SAFE

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A ski-equipped Otter with six men aboard has been spotted from the air near Badger, Nfld., its six occupants apparently safe.

Occupants of the aircraft were identified today as Lee Franklin, a native of Toronto, the pilot; Hugh Wadden, 26, a native of Glace Bay, N.S.; Anthony Head, 21, Robert O'Toole, 24, Norman Higden, 22, and Gus Soper, all of Buchans.

The plane was returning to Buchans, 50 miles east of here, after the community's hockey team played a game in the Newfoundland Senior B semifinals. Five of those aboard were team members.

Ottawa Plans Boost in Grants

OTTAWA (CP) — A greater role for the army and increased financial aid to provincial and municipal organizations are proposed under a new Canadian civil defence setup announced today by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The federal government henceforth will bear 75 per cent of the cost of approved provincial and municipal civil defence projects instead of 50 per cent as now.

The new setup resulted from a review of Canada's civil defence organization by Lt.-Gen. Howard D. Graham, who undertook it last year on his retirement as chief of the army's general staff.

Mr. Diefenbaker said in the Commons that as a result of this review it is proposed to transfer certain civil defence responsibilities, insofar as the federal government is concerned, and to offer to assume directly certain responsibilities hitherto borne by the provinces and municipalities.

"The principal change proposed," he said, "is that the army should undertake primary and direct responsibility for a number of the technical civil defence functions heretofore carried by the civil defence organizations at the federal, provincial and municipal levels."

Troops Will Do the 'Danger Jobs'

These will include the warning of attack, the location and monitoring of explosions and radio-active fallout, the assessment of damaged areas, decontamination and clearing of such locales.

For this purpose the prime minister informed the Commons, the army will need not only its own reserve force but also the assistance of various local auxiliaries. The army will arrange with provincial and local authorities for the latter.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government believes the major humanitarian tasks should remain the direct responsibility of provincial authorities in war, as they are in peace, but with increased financial and technical assistance from the federal government.

These tasks include provision of medical and hospital services for the injured and sick, public health measures and emergency sheltering and other accommodation for those who must evacuate their homes, and emergency feeding and other welfare services.

U.S. ACCUSES SOVIET SHIP OF CABLE CUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today tentatively accused the Soviet fishing trawler Novorossisk of responsibility in the breaking of five trans-Atlantic cables off Newfoundland last month. The U.S. demanded that the Soviet government take steps to prevent such damage in the future.

Africa Murder Plot Bared by Government

LONDON (Reuters) — A planned African uprising which would have involved the murder of the British governor in Nyasaland as well as white missionaries and women and children was reported today in a government white paper.

The government document published details of the alleged African massacre plot which was the main reason for declaring a state of emergency in the British central African protectorate of Nyasaland.

The document was based on a report from the governor of Nyasaland, Sir Robert Armitage. It reported that the plot, to be put into effect on R-Day was drawn up at a secret meeting in Blantyre, the Nyasaland capital, Jan. 25. About 140 delegates of the African National Congress attended the meeting.

The report said: "Those attending were sworn to secrecy under threat of death and such was the effectiveness of this cloak of secrecy that some time elapsed before knowledge of what took place at this meeting became available to the government."

Fraud Charge Laid

NEW YORK (AP)—An indictment charging financier Alexander L. Guterman and three associates with defrauding the Bon Ami Company of $314,600 was returned today in Brooklyn federal court.

PM PROPOSES CANADA SITE

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today in the Commons he proposed to Prime Minister Macmillan here last week that if a summit conference were called it be held in Canada.

He indicated Quebec City would be a good site.

The proposal covering these points was drafted by Macmillan and Eisenhower for inclusion in Western notes expected to go to Moscow later this week. Khrushchev has been pressing for a summit conference for many months.

Macmillan feels the Western heads of government must negotiate with Khrushchev even if the foreign ministers' conference is a failure. Eisenhower feels every effort must be made to get basic progress toward a solution of the Berlin crisis and some start on other German problems at the foreign ministers' meeting.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

LONDON — The sight of two pretty girls hula-hooping in swim suits on the sunny deck of the Royal Yacht Britannia was just too agonizing for 250 crew members far from home.

Reports reaching London said the trouble is all settled now and the girls are twirling their hoops in the privacy of their cabins.

Anne Stevenson and Julie Vaughan-Hudson are secretaries aboard the yacht-carrying "Prince Philip" to the Solomon Islands on part of his world tour.

Crew members made a respectful complaint that the spectacle on the officers' recreation deck was distracting to conscientious sailors.

They reminded officers that they hadn't had shore leave or feminine company for seven weeks.

And, besides, they said the officers' recreation deck was so far away that they had to watch through binoculars.

EDINBURGH—Actor A. E. Matthews, 89, appearing in a comedy here, told a reporter he's giving up whisky and saving his money. "When a man is getting on for 90—which I will be in November—it's time for him to start thinking about his future," he said.

MODESTO, Calif.—Modesto Junior College's people packers have claimed still another record for sardining a telephone booth—33 students—but rival schools might call it a phony.

They announced Saturday that they had crammed 32 students in a regulation booth, 34x34x84 inches. South Africa last week had boasted of getting 25 students in a phone kiosk.

But in increasing the squash figure to 33, the Modesto students admitted that all were standing up in the booth which was placed horizontally on its back with the doors removed.

Jerry Miller, sophomore-investigator of the stunt, said "technically, I suppose, they were not all the way inside. Anyway, I'd like to know just exactly how the other schools are doing it."

"We got 20 guys in the booth in layers yesterday and then decided it was impossible to get any more than that. Those South African students must be pygmies."

LONDON—Actor Rex Harrison watched his son Noel wed Montreal-born model Mrs. Sara Tufnell at a register office ceremony Sunday.

Mrs. Tufnell, 23, was sometimes squibbed by the Duke of Kent after her former marriage was dissolved. Noel Harrison, 25, is a television guitar player.

ALLIES PLAN PRE-SESSION

LONDON (Reuters)—The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will meet in Washington March 31 and April 1 to exchange views before a possible conference with Russia, it was announced today.

Nine Die In U.S. Mine Blast

ROBBINS, Tenn. (UPI)—An explosion ripped through a small coal mine in the Tennessee hill country today, killing nine men working in the main shaft, the Scott County sheriff reported.

Five bodies were recovered by noon. Crews working to reach the others reported there was little chance that any were alive.

The explosion occurred about a mile from the entrance to the mine.

Ancient Rite Revived By Pope John

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Pope John will revive the ancient papal custom of washing the feet of 12 poor men—as Christ did with his apostles—a Vatican source said today.

The Pope will perform the ceremony Thursday at the patriarchal Archbasilica of St. John Lateran. The ceremony concludes with a prayer: "That as here and outward stains are washed away for us and by us, so the inward sins of us all may be washed away by Thee."

The last Pope to wash the feet of the poor was Pius IX, who died in 1878 after a 32-year reign.

Death Sentence Ordered in Ont.

KENORA, Ont. (CP)—An Assize Court jury here has convicted Thomas Young of the Christmas Day murder of Ontario provincial police constable Calvin Russell Fulford. Young, 27, was sentenced to be hanged June 30.

Young was tried for the rifle slaying of the police officer, who was killed in a burst of shots from a shack at Ear Falls. Four other persons were also shot dead, one of them the accused's father, Albert Young.

ing the unconscious Linda Henley was severed in the crash.

The ambulance was going at about 40 miles an hour with siren and red light working when it crashed, the driver said.

It was the first time the Langford ambulance had an accident in its seven years of operation.

FREAK MISHAP

Colwood RCMP described the first Malahat accident as a freak. The Thurlay car, a small English model, was being towed north by another car driven by David Stanley Garman, 1045 Vista, using a length of rope.

Suddenly there was some slack in the rope and the small car's right wheel ran over it, causing the length to wrap around the wheel and pull the vehicle out of control.

It swerved off the pavement and over the right bank, rolling and smashing down the rocks. It was a total wreck.

The second crash was caused when the teenagers' car veered onto the shoulder as it travelled south, came back onto the hard top out of control, struck a rock bank, flipped over and landed on its roof in the middle of the highway.

Man Trapped 1,000 Feet Down Cave

CASTLETON, England (UPI)—A 20-year-old Oxford student was trapped unconscious in a crevice 1,000 feet below the surface today in nearby Devil's Hole Cave. Rescuers tried to pull him out, but the rope broke.

Neil Moss became wedged in the crevice Sunday while exploring the famous "Peak cavern" in the Derbyshire hills with a group of seven students.

Nearly 100 rescue workers worked through the night to get him out before the foul air in the hole snuffs out his life. They supplied him with oxygen through a tube leading into the crevice.

Canada Orders U.S. Planes

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has ordered 10 SA-16 seaplanes from Grumman Aircraft Company of Long Island, N.Y., for the RCAF. It was learned today.

The planes, for the RCAF Search and Rescue Service, will be manufactured by Grumman in the United States.

Canadian manufacturers may supply spare parts and engines only.

Announcement on purchase of the seaplanes was given to the Air Industries and Transport Association by D. L. Thompson, director of the aircraft branch of the defence production department.

On March 2, Defence Minister Peakes informed the Commons that RCAF teams visited the Grumman plant on Long Island last Oct. 30 and Nov. 1 to find out whether Grumman would permit production of the seaplane under licence by Avro Aircraft Limited, Malton, Ont. Avro was hit hard Feb. 20 by cancellation of the Arrow jet interceptor program.

Eleven Arrested by FBI In Newspaper Puzzle 'Fix'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal Bureau of Investigation today announced the arrests of 11 persons in what it described as a swindle involving newspaper puzzle contests.

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said the swindle operations crossed the U.S.-Canadian border.

FBI agents today picked up four persons in Oregon, three in Michigan, two in Pennsylvania and one each in Indiana and Wisconsin.

They were charged with conspiracy to violate the federal mail fraud and fraud by wire statutes.

Similar charges have been filed against two other persons in Canada and a resident of Minnesota. None of these three is in custody.

Two Portland, Ore., newspapers—The Oregonian and The Journal—announced several weeks ago they had heard reports of a "fix" on newspaper puzzle contests. They dropped such contests from their papers and asked the FBI to investigate.

Hoover's announcement said the investigation showed that answers to puzzle contests conducted by two New York City feature syndicates, obtained in advance by a devious scheme, were used in winning more than $45,000 between November, 1958, and February of this year.

The FBI said the ringleaders in the operation established a base in Canada and subscribed to the puzzle feature services, using the name and address of a non-existent newspaper company which they called "Suburban Publishers, Limited, 220 Epworth, London, Ont."

The FBI said the feature services do not furnish contest answers to a subscribing newspaper but supply them to a bank to be held in confidence until the deadline has passed for submission of solutions.

Hoover said "Suburban Publishers" supplied the syndicates with the name of a fictitious bank, the "Midwest Trust Company," with the mailing address P.O. Box 699, Byron, Ont., Canada.

The puzzle answers sent to this box were picked up by the ringleaders in Canada. Others living in the United States entered the contests with the benefit of solutions supplied by telephone from either Detroit or Canada. The individual winners, the FBI said, were allowed to keep a small share of the prize money while the bulk of the cash was delivered to the ring's Canadian headquarters.

Hoover said the use of interstate communications brought federal law into play.

4-Day Coma Ends For Victoria Boy

David Harvey came out of his four-day coma Sunday following an intricate brain operation in Vancouver's Crease Clinic, sat up in bed and asked for a magazine to read.

"We are so tremendously happy," his mother, Mrs. Ted Harvey, 1817 Quadra, said today.

"So many of his former friends didn't know about his trouble. Now they do know, thanks to a story that appeared in the Times. They have sent him cards, and two of his best friends plan to go over next weekend."

The former Victoria College student, now 19, has had re-

curing brain trouble since a fall six years ago.

His Hobby Was Giving Money Away

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—James Goodfellow Robson, 72, one of British Columbia's best known philanthropists and timber company executives, died Saturday at his home here.

Mr. Robson's hobby in recent years was giving away his money. Known bequests amounted to $650,000, including $250,000 to the University of B.C.

He retired from business three years ago and amassed a fortune as owner of Timberland Lumber Company in Surrey.

Born at Ayr, Ont., he came to B.C. about 1906 and in 1907 was a shipper at Maple Ridge Lumber Company in Haney.

"I got sawdust in my blood and stayed right here in B.C.," he once said.

In 1910 he was bankrupt with debts of $19,000 and cash assets of $17.

FULL PRODUCTION IN U.S.

Big Order for Bomarc

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new $300,000,000 contract was announced Saturday for the super Bomarc missile. It apparently means the air force is ordering the target-seeking weapon into full-scale production before it has been tested.

It has a radius of 400 miles. Senator Henry Jackson of Washington said the air force is giving Boeing Airplane Company the contract to complete development and manufacture of its advanced model B Bomarc.

Boeing already has built an undisclosed number of the advanced model Bomarc at its Seattle plant.

In Seattle, the Times reported Saturday that the first test flight may be made this spring, probably from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Jackson said the new contract, besides providing for an undisclosed number of model B Bomarc, will include ground support for their tactical use. Fourteen Bomarc bases in the United States and two in Canada have been announced.

Detailed performance figures haven't been released for the solid-fueled model B but its engines have been reported tested up to 100,000-foot altitude and it's considerably faster than the earlier model. The model A hits more than 2½ times the speed of sound.

The new model is designed as a defence against other air-breathing missiles as well as planes.

PARENTS THANKED

She tendered special thanks to parents of the campers "who came through in really noble fashion."

Initial target of the drive, which has been in progress over the past month, was $10,000.

The show included displays of the many camping arts and techniques as well as booths of flowers and handicrafts donated by citizens.

Each group of 200 girls spent about an hour in the building demonstrating the basic lessons of camping to a large crowd of Victorians.

Winner of a tombola game which climaxed the show was Major H. C. Holmes, 336 Newport Avenue.

Chekhov's Widow, Grand Old Lady Of Theatre, Dies

LONDON (AP)—Olga Leonardovna Knipper-Chekhova, 88, the grand old lady of the Russian theatre and the widow of the famed author-playwright Anton Chekhov, died Sunday in Moscow, a Moscow radio broadcast announced.

Mrs. Knipper-Chekhova—her maiden name was Knipper—was a leading actress who helped create some of the greatest roles in the modern stage. Her career from the age of 18 was bound up with the Moscow Art Theatre of Konstantin Stanislavsky and V. I. Nemirov-Danchenko. She was one of the last of the pre-revolutionary intelligentsia left in Russia.

Kassem Accused Of Ducking War

Nasser Attacks Iraqi Premier; Also Minimizes Soviet Action

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser has accused his rival, Iraqi Premier Kassem, of refusing to aid in "a fight to the finish" against Israel.

In another fighting speech broadcast from Damascus, the president of the United Arab Republic criticized Kassem and Soviet Premier Khrushchev, whom he called Kassem's "backer."

For the first time Nasser asserted the Soviets' ultimatum had nothing to do with halting the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt in 1956.

He said fighting had stopped before the Soviet ultimatum arrived Nov. 6, 1956. He also said the Soviets gave Egypt no aid during the Suez fighting, and that they had not supported last July's Iraqi revolution against the former pro-Western regime.

Russia threatened Britain and France with its atomic power Nov. 5. Britain and France ordered a cease-fire in the Suez fighting Nov. 7, although in the West, American opposition to the war and not the Soviet threat generally was believed responsible for the decision to end hostilities. But the Arab world, led by Nasser, gave most or all of the credit to the Russians.

Nasser said the Israelis launched a series of attacks on the Syrian frontier late last year and that he anticipated an all-out attack.

To meet such an attack, he continued, he planned a fight to the finish and asked Kassem to send troops to help. But Kassem refused, Nasser asserted.

The Syrian border incidents coincided with a Cairo propaganda campaign against King Hussein of Jordan. The Jordanians charged that Nasser was plotting to overthrow Hussein, and reliable reports circulated that the Israelis in that event would occupy the former Palestine territory west of the River Jordan. The tension subsequently subsided.

The word war between Nasser and Kassem erupted when the Iraqi premier accused the U.A.R. president of backing a recent abortive revolt in northern Iraq. Nasser in reply accused Kassem of "collaborating" with Communist agents trying to undermine Arab unity.

The Bright Shop Window

MR. BENNETT SEEMS TO BE getting ready for an election this year. No election is required constitutionally until 1961 and the usual four-year term of the Legislature will not expire until the fall of 1960. But such conventions have never worried Mr. Bennett.

He called his last election, in 1956, when the existing Legislature was only three years old, before a famous scandal could reach the courts. Undoubtedly he will call an election this year if the prospects look good.

The prospects, from his point of view, probably look good. Before the end of this year he will have completed the fictitious retirement of the whole provincial debt; or if all the bonds are not actually repaid he will have enough money in the bank to pay them at maturity date.

British Columbia will be entirely free of direct debt, though it will have piled up close to half a billion of dollars in indirect debt, guaranteed by the Government. As a result, the provincial budget will be relieved of about $20 millions of annual interest and sinking fund payments.

Mr. Bennett has been very candid in explaining the intended use of this money. It is to be distributed where it will do the most good politically and thus provide an attractive shop window for the election.

Old age pensions are to be raised. The present grant of $28 a year to home owners (their own money disguised as a gift from the state) will be increased. The municipalities apparently will receive some crumbs, too. Social assistance payments will go up. In this lucky tub there ought to be a trifle for everybody.

That is the trouble with Mr. Bennett's debt retirement plan—it will be used to provide electoral sops over as wide an area as possible but it will have little real effect on any of our pressing problems, the municipalities for instance. It will not be used alternatively to reduce the taxes that make British Columbia the highest-taxed province in Canada.

In fact, as outlined by Mr. Bennett, the savings in debt will be spread too thin as election bait instead of being concentrated on some useful purpose. And while these direct charges are reduced, with no corresponding reduction in taxes, the indirect charges on an expanding indirect debt will continue to rise and will be paid indirectly by the public.

But the shop window should look attractive by autumn. Moreover, Mr. Bennett doubtless would hope, by an early election, to catch the opposition parties unprepared, the CCF still negotiating its marriage of convenience with the labor unions, the Liberal and Conservative parties ill-organized.

Moreover—and this may well be a decisive factor in Mr. Bennett's calculations—an autumn election would be completed before Mr. Bennett had to face the highly embarrassing Wenner-Gren affair. The voters would go to the polls not knowing whether the Peace River deal was to be consummated or not. They would have no chance to vote on it. If it fell through, later on, Mr. Bennett would hope to be safely reinstalled in office.

The political logic of an early snap election is thus obvious and the opposition parties will be foolish if they don't prepare for it without delay.

A Question of Balance

THE TORONTO GLOBE AND Mail, one of Mr. Diefenbaker's staunchest supporters appears to be at odds with the Conservative leader over the question of Canada's trade. Since assuming power at Ottawa, and before the Conservative Party has stood for protection of Canadian industries, which is another way of saying that it favors keeping imports to a minimum. At the same time, of course, it calls for increased exports.

The Conservative Government's record in office—the provision for increased tariff charges on British and other textiles, the changes in regulations to permit arbitrary valuation of goods for dumping purposes, and other actions—bears out its traditional philosophy.

But the Globe and Mail, by implication, takes issue with this policy. How can Canada export, the Toronto journal asks in effect, if it is not willing to accept imports in payment?

The question is logical and sound, and it might be well for Mr. Diefenbaker to consider it.

The Globe and Mail protest is based on Canada's record in trade with Poland. The sale of five and a half million bushels of wheat, announced a few days ago, is one of a number of wheat shipments to that country, totalling 30 million bushels over the past three years. This is something to encourage and expand, obviously. But what is Canada doing about it?

The answer is seen in the trade figures. In 1956 we sold Poland about $18 millions worth of goods, mostly wheat. In return we bought $2 million worth of goods. In 1957 and in 1958 the same imbalance was continued. Is this encouragement? asks the Toronto paper—and we may presume it is asking Mr. Diefenbaker as much as its readers.

But the thought is not new to many other observers in Canada, however fresh it may appear to the Globe and Mail. This question has been asked on many occasions, and not only in relation to trade with Poland.

Our trade with Japan, for instance, is similar. In 1956 we sold Japan $128 millions worth of goods, but bought only $61 millions worth from that country, a typical lack of balance.

Also in 1956, we sold goods to the value of $813 millions to the United Kingdom, bought only $485 millions worth. For West Germany the respective figures are $134 millions and $89 millions; for Australia, $48 millions and $26 millions; France, $53 millions and $33 millions. So it goes for many other countries.

Our surplus overseas is offset of course, by the billion-dollar excess of purchases over sales in our trade with the United States. But this is small comfort to countries which need Canadian dollars to pay for their purchases from us.

If we will not buy their goods they cannot long buy ours in any quantity. That is the simple fact of life which Mr. Diefenbaker's press has discovered, but which apparently still eludes Mr. Diefenbaker.

Insults Abounding

MR. BENNETT ALLOWED THE session to end without tabling the Carrothers Report. If he finds satisfaction in thus avoiding further discussion of civil servants' bargaining rights, it is a satisfaction which cannot be shared by the public. The document should have been placed before the legislature and thoroughly ventilated.

It was the legislature's business because the legislature must vote money to pay the civil service and is concerned directly with factors which raise or lower the amounts.

The situation has been aggravated by the unusual and tactless remarks of Mr. Gagliardi. The minister of highways said that the Government had expected the late Mr. Gordon Sloan to compile the report but, on his transfer to the post of forestry adviser, Dr. F. A. Carrothers of the University of British Columbia had been called in to assume these duties.

"The Government did not have the same confidence in Dr. Carrothers," Mr. Gagliardi adds.

If it did not have sufficient confidence in Dr. Carrothers to reveal his findings, why did the Government turn the job over to him in the first place? And, having given him the assignment—an undertaking for which the public paid—why did it insult the public's representatives in the legislature by denying them the right to study and discuss the report?

Mr. Gagliardi's insult to Dr. Carrothers is matched only by the Government's insult to public intelligence in the course it has taken.

'DO YOU READ ME?'

By B. A. TOBIN

The Electronic Ear

CHILD-TRAINING records tell of a small boy who got into a sad nervous state because he thought that his parents could read his mind. That is a shattering enough thought for anyone to entertain and in the case of this young lad it reduced him to a pitiable condition. There was logic on his side, of course. For instance, because his mother could predict that if he walked near the cookie plate he would reach for one, it was merely routine for her to warn him not to, just as he heard the temptation. The boy naturally believed she had read the thought in his mind.

Tobin

When he was called in for supper, his father would add the admonition: "And don't pretend you don't hear me." To the boy, this was obviously mind-reading. It was pretty unsettling until somebody explained it all to him.

The case comes to mind on reading of new developments in the field of electronics. It is now possible, the reports say, to construct a detection and amplification set that will pick up and record your voice at unbelievable distances.

A telescope-like contrivance can be trained in your direction—say towards your office window from another nearby window—and "hear" everything that is said. A tiny transistor mechanism hardly larger than a cigarette package can record your words on tape without you even knowing it is in the handbag or breast pocket of the person near you.

Your telephone wire can be "tapped" without even touching it—merely by holding a "pickup" apparatus near it.

Matter for Thought

If such devices come into common use—and they can be made very easily from readily available materials—a lot of citizens are going to be in the position of the boy who thought his mental circuits were being tapped. They'll think somebody has been reading their mind. And in some ways they'll be right.

The fellow at a table across the restaurant may be recording every word you say to the business acquaintance you are dining with. The recorder lies snugly in his pocket, the microphone that is slightly enlarged tiepin he is wearing.

What Mrs. A says to Mrs. B about Mrs. C on the bus may end up as a few feet of tape in Mrs. D's private archives—perhaps some day to find its way to Mrs. A.

A few indiscreet words whispered into an ear in the course of a dance may find their way into someone's pocket recorder, to turn up most inopportunistically later on.

Obviously, this sort of thing could play havoc with our day-to-day living. It could play havoc, period.

In some ways, of course, the new eavesdropper techniques will be of great assistance. The hoodlums huddled in a hotel room to plan a robbery, say, will never know whether or not they are being spied on. An unnoticed microphone in the wall, a telescope pick-up trained on their open window—any one of several devices may be putting on tape the evidence that will ruin them.

There is even a piece of apparatus that can pick up and decipher the vibrations in a window pane caused by conversation in a room. Closing your window apparently will provide no escape.

Police headquarters, your neighbor's hobby workshop, your enemy's lawyer and any unscrupulous competitor, are going to be as well acquainted with what you say as you will be yourself. And if you are in the habit of saying what you think, your mind will be an open book.

That comes as close to mind-reading as would be technically feasible. Much of that, and you'll be afraid to think anything.

Listening Post

The other side of the picture, of course, involves the people who do the listening. It will take a special type of individual to undergo this grueling job, for after the first few minutes of listening to the average human mind reveal itself, the worst boredom in the world is sure to set in.

What could be duller than to have to sit with an earphone all day and hear the thoughts of the folks who filled the tape. There would be novelty at first, of course, but that wouldn't last long. In no time at all it would be torture.

By all odds the listeners will be seeking a psychiatrist's help long before the worried victims crack up through anxiety.

Now that we have the technical means of hearing the private thoughts of others the next obvious step is to develop some thoughts that will be worth hearing. Admittedly this is a much more difficult job, and it may be that in the end we will have to turn to some electronic device to help us.

That will be the end, of course. Once we have machines set up to listen to machines, we can all steal quietly away from the universe and we'll never be missed.

If there's a shortage of potatoes, there's a shortage of potatoes, and you won't enable people to eat as many potatoes as they ate last year simply by giving them more money, because the potatoes aren't there. You can try some form of redistribution perhaps by rationing so that poor people don't go without potatoes altogether, but as far as the community is concerned the potatoes aren't there and it's no good using a cost of living index or any other monetary measure to delude people that they can have as many potatoes as before.

Charitable Demands

I would not be writing this if it were not serious, unchristian, yes, and ungodly.

I refer to the constant demands for charitable purposes, through the mail and otherwise. Many of us who get these calls and would not object if they could afford it, simply can't understand why the Federal Government, and this present B.C. government can't see and understand that these charitable calls would not now be so demanding if they would use their brains and stop letting the Macmillan government in Britain and possibly Royalties themselves make these demands on our Canada and other countries, too.

At election time they go almost on their knees for our votes, yet as soon as they get in, they deliberately spend the people's money for trips for themselves. I include the civic government in this too.

There is absolutely no need for Royal visits here ever.

The Place for Them

It was pleasing to see in your Wednesday's paper that the Oak Bay councillors have a sense of their responsibility to protect the general public from the dog nuisance.

It is to be hoped that the Victoria aldermen will at long last develop a similar feeling of responsibility.

Your paper shows a "sob-sister" picture of a dog in the pound, which is the proper place for such a roaming nuisance.

To match that picture, you should also show pictures of trampled flower beds, dug-up flower beds, dirtied sidewalks and neighbors' gardens and garbage cans with lids knocked off and contents scattered by such underfed roaming dogs.

Right to Work

At a recent sitting of the Legislature Mr. Gargrave (CCF) outlined his party's conception of a Bill of Rights (Federal). He pleaded for freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of the press, freedom to strike, and various other freedoms which failed to include freedom of the right to work. Political freedom is also threatened as evidenced by the labor manifesto with respect to Bill No. 43 which intimates labor unions would live up with the CCF.

The press quotes Mr. David Lyttle, president of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Government Employees, as stating: "All government employees who cross the picket line will be asked to give their names to picketers." Is it not rather hypocritical for Mr. Lyttle to shed crocodile tears over the necessity of calling a strike and then blackmailing and threatening workers who wish to exercise freedom of thought and action? The word "freedom" needs some explaining.

It may be a coincidence that the same day's press also carried a story from the Nova Scotia Legislature where the accidental disclosure of a report by U.S.A. efficiency experts showed the efficiency rating of employees in one government department was between 50 and 60 per cent. Trade, commerce and industry could not operate on that basis and it would seem reasonable to ask that any respect for government salaries equal to those of industry should offer assurance that the rate of efficiency will at least be equal.

Mr. O'Connor Replies

The undersigned has noted the subject matter of your editorial appearing in your March 13, 1959, issue under the caption, "The Strike."

The B.C. Government Employees' Association is in complete accord with the suggestions made in said editorial, that outstanding differences between the Government and its employees should be settled by negotiation. The unfortunate truth is, however, that it takes two parties to conduct negotiations and our government has, over the years, ignored our repeated requests for a meeting when it suits political and economic expediency.

May we recall that in 1953 and 1954, after pressing vigorously for arbitration rights, the government refused to meet our representatives for a period of eighteen months. In the present issue we requested a meeting by telegram on February 12, which was acknowledged, but no meeting was arranged. We further requested a meeting by telegram on March 9, but also to no avail.

We have always in the past, and still, stand ready to discuss our differences with the government. May I take the liberty of suggesting that if you feel that negotiations should replace the threat of strike action, or strike action itself, then may we respectfully request that you use your good offices to attempt to convince the government to meet and bargain in good faith with the association representatives.

We completely disagree with your statement that we have no right to demand the tabling of the Carrothers Report. On July 10, 1957, two days before the date set for strike action, the government presented our committee with an order-in-council appointing a board of reference under the Civil Service Act, to investigate bargaining rights. After studying the subject matter of the order-in-council our committee asked the premier if he would consent to recommending provisions of the report to the next session of parliament and making the subject matter of any recommendations applicable to those of our members who were not appointed to office by the Civil Service Commission. The premier assented to these requests and the matter was considered concluded.

After eighteen months, during which period the late Hon. Gordon McGregor Sloan resigned in April, 1958, and Dr. Carrothers was appointed as a substitute, and after the expenditure by the

The aspect of security also deserves some thought. Business failures, lack of orders, etc., often necessitate staff curtailments in the fields of trade, commerce and industry. A steady job with reasonably good working conditions, remuneration, holidays, etc., has certain advantages which offset those enjoyed by a businessman who has to risk his own money and who pays a pretty stiff price for apparent independence.

Civil service employees are, by and large, able and conscientious workers but too frequently suffer from the disturbing influence of a few lead-swingers and clock-watchers. Perhaps this undesirable element could be replaced by a few experienced and reliable retired civil servants (federal, provincial and municipal) of whom there are a considerable number throughout the province.

A very substantial number of civil service employees receive annual increments within certain brackets and it is safe to say that very few members are not receiving a higher rate of pay than was the case a year ago. In many instances a higher rate is earned and deserved and there is the thought that these increases might be made at the expense of those who spend much of their lives in the service of the province, in education, and other matters foreign to the work for which they were employed. Let it not be forgotten that the government acts for the people of the province and can only obtain additional funds by imposing additional taxation.

A TAXPAYER.

Lost Public Sympathy

The SIU strike against not only the CPR but against the people and the economy of this province last summer did more than anything else up to that time to turn public sympathy against the unions.

A strike by civil servants against a duly-elected government is nothing short of anarchy. The people of British Columbia might well stop and consider the consequences of domination by labor unions. Shall the elected government or shall the unions, often led by international racketeers and criminals, govern?

We claim to be a free people but we shall not be free if the latter are to be our rulers. Unions, together with the CCF, are endeavoring by every means in their power to gain control of the economy of this country. This is an extremely dangerous situation not only for B.C. but for the whole of Canada.

Union members and their families will suffer like others and no one will gain. Shall anarchy rule or shall decency, consideration and justice by legitimate means rule?

The premier of Newfoundland is to be congratulated on his courageous stand to break rule from outside the country. He deserves support. It is high time we took cognizance of the situation.

A PENSIONER.

Weapons for Peace

May I congratulate Joan Adie on her intelligent proposals for Canada in which "defence" spending would be for social services, scientific research, education and aid to underdeveloped countries.

The United Church of Canada in a recent conference (Maclean's editorial of March 28, 1959) and many other prominent individuals and groups have also expressed their concern about the urgency of the need for new perspectives on our international problems. It should be obvious now that Canada's position in the arm's race is untenable.

The noted British author and lecturer Vera Brittain, will speak in Victoria on "Weapons for Peace" on March 28. This will be a further opportunity to obtain more facts which will enable us to understand the nature of Canada's dilemma.

association of over $10,000 in legal and expert witness fees to enable presentation before the board of the best legal authority re the question of constitutional law and practice, the hearings were concluded in August, 1958, with our request that the board do everything in its power to file its report prior to the next session of the legislature.

On February 1, 1959, the executive decided to take a strike ballot re wages. It was only after the ballots were in the mail that it came to our attention as a result of the efforts of "gentlemen of the press" that the Carrothers Report had been in the government's possession since January 10, 1959.

It must be obvious that up to that time and since, they have not seen fit to table and recommend its contents to the legislature, or afford the association an opportunity to peruse the subject matter.

In view of the government's refusal to meet our representatives, and the government's apparent lack of integrity to live up to its promise to table and recommend the subject matter of the report to the legislature, the executive felt they had no alternative but to consider that the government had repudiated the strike settlement of '57 which relieved the association of its obligation under said settlement and, therefore, proceeded to set a strike date under the mandate of the 1957 convention and also in compliance with the demands of our members at special meetings of the association as evidenced by telegrams requesting the executive to give priority over wages to the matter of tabling the Carrothers Report.

The association is in complete agreement with your suggestion that appropriate bargaining machinery should be developed to avoid strike action. We have labored for 17 long years to this end, but to no avail. I am sure the employees and all the citizens of our province would appreciate your continued efforts to convince the government that their employees should have the benefit of an appropriate bargaining procedure, even including arbitration with binding award if you so desire.

E. P. O'CONNOR.

General Secretary, B.C. Government Employees' Assn.

(Editor's Note: At no point in the editorial Mr. O'Connor discusses was the Carrothers Report mentioned. He must know that this newspaper has repeatedly demanded tabling of that report.)

The Stolen Morning

I DON'T know what's come over me. Spring, I guess. Because, this morning, when a friend appeared upon my doorstep, I put down my pen with gay abandon, and said, "Busy with a column? My dear, the column doesn't matter. To heck with the paper and everybody on it! Let's go for a walk, instead!"

We did precisely that, and had a lovely time. We walked up a hill in the sunshine, and saw shooting stars in bloom, and Satin-Flowers which, we said, looked larger and stronger than we remembered them from other years. We found Spring Gold a plenty and went round by a sheltered, favorite place to see whether the Easter lilies were coming into bloom.

Then we simply sat in the sun and talked, and wished we'd brought some food with us instead of having to go home again to eat.

It was a sin, I know, and I do feel a little guilty. But I also feel extremely grateful to the particular tract of land for an unspoiled natural park.

I don't know who they were. I've never bothered to find out. But they have given me great pleasure throughout the year and especially in the spring. I appreciate them more with every passing year. For the wild flowers are increasing, just as they're increasing in a tiny patch of private bush I know.

This tiny patch is only a fraction of an acre. It has a few firs on it, a maple and a dogwood. Beneath the trees are bushes of snowberry and spiraea. Beneath the bushes, where bracken grows so thickly later in the year, are the Easter lilies. (I cannot call them Erythronium or Dog-tooth Violets. They were Easter lilies when I was a child, and they're still Easter lilies to me.)

The lilies are never picked because the woman who owns the land likes to leave them undisturbed. Each year they are more numerous.

Five years ago, one could walk along the little trail without fear of treading on them. Nowadays, that's impossible.

I walked through there this morning, and saw many tiny, single, unspotted leaves, where there were none at all last spring. In a year or two, instead of a single leaf, there'll be a pair. Then, one year, there'll be a flower. After that there'll be a flower each year, and each year the flower will scatter seeds and the whole process will be repeated.

It sounds silly put like that, and very elementary.

But perhaps this column will catch the eye of someone who has never thought about the wild flower places and how they're disappearing.

With luck, it might even make them think about regional planning, and the importance of preserving enough places as unspoiled natural parks.

LONDON—Names in the news... Alec Clunes: For 26 of his 46 years, Clunes has been a straight actor and now that he's slated to take over Rex Harrison's part in My Fair Lady next month he has had to decide whether to talk the songs in Harrison style or sing them. He had decided on the latter and is now being trained by the Italian singing coach who, among others, taught Sir Laurence Olivier to sing for the film of The Beggar's Opera. It will be interesting to hear the Harrison songs sung—I've always felt it was such a waste of good tunes for them to be used merely as musical background.

She denies, incidentally, that the decision to make her debut on the small screen was prompted by a desire to prove "anything you can do I can do better" to hubby.

Laurence Olivier has just revealed an interesting sidelight on the Alec Guinness success in River Kwai. We knew that originally the Guinness part had been earmarked for Noel Coward.

Now it comes to light that after Coward had turned it down it was tried on Olivier. No thanks, said Olivier. At that time he was discussing with Marilyn Monroe the idea of doing The Prince and the Showgirl with her.

"Why should I go to Ceylon to play a martinet," he said, "when I can stay at home and act with Marilyn Monroe?"

Somerset Maugham has given the nod for the conversion of his novel Of Human Bondage into a musical. Man who put the deal through is U.S. playwright Richard Adler. He already has the leading lady for the part of Muriel (played by Bette Davis in the screen version)—his wife, Sally Ann Howes.

Pay Book Forger Pleads Guilty To Four Charges

A Work Point soldier pleaded guilty to his fourth charge this week of false pretences by worthless cheques when he appeared in city police court Saturday.

Jack Kenneth Dye, 646 Admirals, was remanded to Thursday for sentence on three charges read today. He was remanded to Thursday on the first charge in an earlier appearance in Saanich police court.

Dye is accused of using false names and a forged army pay book as identification when cashing or attempting to cash cheques for $30 or less at Greater Victoria grocery stores.

Court was told Dye used the names William J. Hansen and R. J. Williams to obtain groceries with a value of $24.49 from Fife Stores Ltd. Feb. 14; $20 cash from Canada Safeway Ltd. Feb. 6 and attempted to obtain $30 from Safeway's on March 14.

Army provost and police are investigating circumstances surrounding the forged army documents.

HOME GARDEN

Good Start for Asters

A group of flowering annuals popular for bedding and outdoor planters includes favorites such as sweet-scented 10-week stock and nicotiana, aster, nemesis, French and African marigold, dimorphotheca (S. African daisy) and the lowly white alyssum.

All these grow fairly quickly from seed, but to have established plants ready for setting into the garden by mid-May, it is well to sow the seed indoors or in a slightly heated greenhouse.

Aster and 10-week stock were advised for sowing indoors the week following March 14. They will then be ready for pricking out into flats, ahead of the next batch of sowings.

Also, they will be ready to be moved, still in their flats, out into cold frames for hardening off before space inside gets too crowded.

The white or crimson nicotianas are well worth growing as a tall scented accent near the house where the perfume can be enjoyed on summer evenings. The seed may be sown indoors from now to the end of the month, at the same time as that of nemesis, French (dwarf) and African (tall) marigold, and white, purple or pink alyssum. The pink strain of alyssum making its debut this year is called Pink Heather.

Inside of two weeks from sowing date, the seedlings of all these kinds will be ready for pricking out into flats. The sooner it is done, the better the results.

Dimorphotheca (one of the S. African daisies) is another fast growing annual. For a hot, sunny place there is nothing more intriguing than these daisy-like flowers in close mats, no more than six inches high, in soft yet glistening shades of buff, yellow and orange.

ISLAND PROVINCE MISUNDERSTOOD?

'Treated Like Stranger' Newfoundland Complaint

By CHARLES BRUCE

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A week from Tuesday night they are holding a dinner here to mark the 10th anniversary of union with Canada and to honor J. R. Smallwood, not as premier of the province, but as Newfoundland's chief father of Confederation.

There will be a certain shadow at the feast.

For, 10 years after Mr. Smallwood led this proud and ancient country into the family of Canadian provinces, he finds himself and his government bitterly at odds with the head of the house.

And apart from purely political considerations, among the citizens who come to mark the day and to pay tribute to the man chiefly responsible for its historic significance, there will certainly be many whose hearts and minds are nagged by a sense of hurt; a feeling that this province is largely misunderstood by the rest of Canada, slighted or viewed with indifference.

No Secession

Newfoundland is not a candidate for secession from Confederation. But the poker player's plaint to the dealer: "You're treating me like a stranger," is not a joke in the accent of Newfoundland. "She doesn't like the cards."

Politically, of course, the jarring note is federal reaction to the March 4 labor amendments, plus federal refusal to send requested R.C.M.P. reinforcements, and certain hard words that were said in the House of Commons. There are other differences. But the crux is what happened this month at Ottawa.

In the larger area of relations between peoples, which includes politics but goes far beyond it, the feeling sparked into speech by mainland reaction to the logging troubles—is that in 10 years of union there has been for the 10th province little warmth of welcome. That Newfoundland has been regarded in some sense as a curiosity, but not one in which it was worthwhile to take much constructive interest.

Wrong Stress

Harold Butler, St. John's radio station operator, put it this way:

"What people are interested in, in acquainting themselves with other people or with a country, are differences. But the differences that visitors to Newfoundland have chosen to talk about and publicize have been her inadequacies."

There is the further feeling that mainland businessmen who have dealings with Newfoundland are impatient and show it—with the Newfoundlanders' way of doing things, which is part of his way of life.

A score of people around St. John's—businessmen, civil servants, newspapermen and others in touch with opinion, expressed views not much different when asked to comment on the current wave of irritation with the mainland.

They noted, for example, that slums have been pictured and written about instead of Bowring Park or the rugged beauty of coast and forest; that an outdoor hand-pump which most St. John's residents did not know existed has been referred to as representing the city's way of life. And, as a reverse twist, that visiting mainlanders remark in surprise: "Why, you people dress the same way we do."

Mass Labor Meeting

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP)—The Corner Brook Labor Council (CLC) is to hold a mass meeting here this week to rally labor groups against Premier Smallwood's "recent anti-union legislation".

The 6,000-member council is a firm supporter of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA), 1,200 of whose members struck the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company at Grand Falls, on December 31.

In an interview Saturday, council president Peter Fudge said the provincial welfare department is waging a "scandalous campaign" against the IWA. Welfare officers were ordered March 9 to refuse welfare benefits to any member of the IWA, decertified by the Newfoundland Legislature three weeks ago.

About 1,400 IWA loggers employed by Bowater's Newfoundland Pulp & Paper Mills, Limited, in this area, began leaving their jobs in mid-January, apparently in sympathy with the Anglo-Newfoundland strikers. The union says no strike has been called against Bowater's—the company was just having trouble finding loggers willing to work.

NO RELIEF PAYMENTS TO STRIKERS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood said Sunday the government will not make relief payments to International Woodworkers of America (IWA) loggers in western Newfoundland.

"If they need relief their only hope of getting it is to cease to be on strike," the premier said. "It is the responsibility of the International Woodworkers of America, so much the better."

Cage Series Delayed

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Canadian Basketball Association has announced a change in dates for the Western Canada senior "A" semifinal series between Port Alberni Athletics and Southern Alberta Chicanos at Lethbridge.

The best-of-three series, originally scheduled to open March 30, now will begin Wednesday, April 1, with the second game April 2, and the third, if necessary, Saturday, April 4.

Difficulty in arranging for a court caused the switch. Winner of the series moves to Winnipeg for the best-of-five western final against Winnipeg Kodiaks, opening Monday, April 6.

Kodiaks captured the Manitoba senior men's title Saturday, edging Winnipeg Blue Bombers 67-64 in the fourth game of a best-of-five final.

Dave McCreedy Tops Riflemen

Official opening of the outdoor rifle-shooting season at Heals range is set for this Friday, but Victoria riflemen wanted a little pre-season practice.

They went out to the range Saturday for a warmup shoot and S/Sgt. Dave McCreedy of the Canadian Scottish walked off with the honors.

He scored a 46 and a 48 for 94 points. Don Grant was second and Eileen Learoyd placed third.

SQUASH RULERS

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — G. Diehl Mather and John Hentz, of Philadelphia, successfully defended their national squash racquets doubles title Sunday, defeating two other Philadelphians, Howard Davis and James Whitmoyer, 15-4, 12-15, 15-10, 8-5, 15-7.

PLOEN RETURNING

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union have announced signing holdover quarterback Ken Ploen, a veteran import from Iowa State University, for the 1959 season.

Breeze Was No Problem As Caps Clip Gorge, 3-1

By GRAHAM COX

Vancouver Capilanos just brought too many horses to Victoria Saturday when they met Gorge Hotel in the semi-final match of the Province Cup B.C. senior soccer championships.

Playing first with and then against a 25-mile per hour wind at Royal Athletic Park, the Caps drove to a 3-1 win and a final berth against Vancouver Wasfaxes, who defeated New Westminster Legion, 2-0, at Vancouver Saturday.

day in the other semifinal series.

Caps took a 2-1 first-half lead—using the high wind to advantage to get off a series of booming kicks whenever Gorge threatened.

SHORT PASSES

In the second half, they dominated play with a short-passing attack that kept Gorge off balance through most of the session.

Center forward Neil McEachnie scored two goals for the winners, one in each half, with the third going to Art Bennett. Gorge's only tally was scored by center Billy Abbott on a neat passing play with Ab Travis and Bobbie Mars.

Sunday, Canadian Scottish and Heaneys played to a 2-2 overtime draw in the first Victoria Cup semi-final.

Roy Jackson put the Scots ahead in the opening half, but Gogi Stewart tied it up in the second.

REPLAY SCHEDULED

Taffy Jones appeared to have the game won for the Scots as the overtime started when he tallied, but again Stewart came through to even the count.

The two teams will meet later in a replay.

Next Sunday, Gorge and Esquimalt will meet to decide a playoff finalist at Royal Athletic Park, starting at 2:30 p.m.

Midweek action will pit Evco Probables against Evco Possibles, under the lights at Royal Athletic Park, Tuesday, starting at 7 p.m.

Friday and Saturday will be "Juvenile Soccer Day" at Athletic Park, highlighted Friday by the annual Times-Colonist match and Saturday by the Canadian-Old Country game.

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Two longshots, Apache Brave and No Moss, won the first and second races Saturday at Bowie to provide a $1,243.30 for $2 Daily Double.

Apache Brave was an $81.20 winner of the first race. No Moss paid $116.20 in the second.

Rip Kirby Planning Pro Boxing Career

Rip Kirby, Victoria boxer who won the middleweight title in the "Champion of Champions" tournament here three years ago, is going to try his fists in the professional fight game.

Kirby, who pulled on gloves for the first time in more than two years to step in as a substitute and suffered a technical knockout in a preliminary match when Archie McEachnie appeared here last month, will meet his head-on in Seattle.

The former navy puncher has taken a job in Seattle and will be tutored by George Chermes, manager of lightweight Bobby Hicks.

Chermes plans to give Kirby plenty of time to round back into condition before signing him for his next fight, possibly in Victoria.

Disappointing Day For City Squads

It was a disappointing day for Victoria Minor Hockey Association teams on Saturday. They lost both a Coast title and an Island exhibition.

Victoria All-Stars held Kerrisdale to a 4-4 tie, but the Mainland team won the two-game, total-point Coast ban title 14-11. Kerrisdale won 10-7 Friday.

Goalie Brian Richardson was the outstanding Victoria player as he continually turned back the Vancouver forwards.

Paul Bion scored three goals to lead Victoria, and Bill Anderson got the single. Vancouver scorers were Warren Longpre, with two, Elgin McCann and Gordon Martin.

Nanaimo defeated Victoria 5-3 at Memorial Arena in an exhibition pee-wee game.

Ed Brown led the winners with a pair of goals, while Dave Jones, Bill Dalzell and Bill Wilson scored once each.

Victoria marksmen were Don Buckner, Ken Spencer and Don McNeill.

This week's Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association schedule:

TONIGHT 5:30 p.m.—Midget city championship: Wings vs. Bruins. (Third game, if necessary, Saturday at 8 a.m.)

THURSDAY 8 p.m.—Pee-wee final.

WILLIE'S RECOVERY SURPRISES GIANTS

By UP International

Willie Mays says he's ready to go again, and apparently so are the San Francisco Giants.

Wonderous Willie, who has been out of action since March 12 because of a leg cut that required 35 stitches, was his old self Sunday during the Giants' pre-game workout at Phoenix, Ariz.

Even manager Bill Rigney was surprised when Willie showed up at Municipal Stadium all suited up and ready to play. With an "OK" from his doctor already secured, Mays warmed up with a couple of wind sprints in the outfield.

"There's no pain," he beamed to reporters standing by. And just to prove that the layoff hadn't hurt him one bit, he stepped into the batting cage and rattled a dozen or so smashes over the left field fence.

With his teammates rooting him on, Mays said "I'll be in shape before the season starts."

The enthusiasm engendered by Mays' lusty hitting carried over as the Giants backed up some solid pitching by lefty Mike McCormick with timely hitting for a 10-7 Cactus League victory over Chicago Cubs. Felipe Alou, with a pair of homers and four runs batted in, spearheaded the attack against a trio of Chicago pitchers.

Meanwhile, a long bus ride away at Tucson, Cleveland Indians learned that big Mike Garcia, who is attempting a comeback after a poor 1958 showing, will be lost to them for at least a week with a leg injury. Mike, who took over for Gary Bell in the sixth, was hit just inside the left knee with a line drive off the bat of Boston's Billy Consolo in the following frame.

Erratic play by the Red Sox helped the Indians to three unearned runs and a 7-5 victory.

The injury jinx also hit the Washington Senators, who dropped an 11-2 decision to Kansas City Athletics at West Palm Beach, Fla. Just before the game, the Senators learned that catcher Clint Courtney will be sidelined from four to six weeks with a broken bone in his right leg. Courtney was injured Saturday in a collision with Kansas City catcher Hal Smith at home plate.

Eagles, Optimists Post Minor Fitba' Shutouts

Shutout victories were chalked up in Sunday's Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association matches.

In a Division I tussle at Windsor Park, the Optimists blanked Eagles, 3-0, while Heaneys were battering Victoria West, 10-0, in a Division II game at Carnarvon Park.

Both losing clubs were operating below full strength. Vic West fielded only eight players and Eagles turned out a nine-player squad.

Larry Johnson paced Heaneys' attack with three goals. Al Holgate and Dave Collett each added two tallies and Bruce Pollard, Vern Pratt and Barry Pearce each fired one goal.

Daryl McIntyre scored twice for Optimists and Alan Glen banged home the other tally against Eagles.

DIVISION VII Hampton Eagles—Ren Armstrong 2, Kurt Clark, Gordon Stubbs. Total 4. Gyros—No score.

Reynolds Wolves—Doug Holmes, Jerry Pant, Billy Walton. Total 2. Bullen—No score.

DIVISION VI Oak Bay Optimists—Robert Cosburn. Windsor—No score.

CITY CLUB BEST IN B.C. BUT LOSES SWIM TITLE

Victoria YMCA Aquanymphs have lost their provincial synchronized swimming crown, but they are still the best in the province.

Edmonton Aquadettes captured first place in the 11th annual women's championship meet at Vancouver Saturday as outside teams competed for the first time. Teams from Portland and Tacoma were also entered from outside B.C.

Members of the Victoria team, the 1958 champions, were Rita Norbury, coach; Pat Johnson, Lois Howes, Marlita Neil, Jean Johnson, Jean Hagle and Gaye Culepper.

Vertex by a Neck In Gulfstream Duel

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Vertex won a brilliant stretch duel with Amerigo Saturday in the $121,800 Gulfstream Park Handicap after heavily-favored Bardstown was scratched because of rain.

Vertex, 3-to-2 favorite, ridden by Sammp Boulmetis ran the 1 1/4 miles in 2:01.35 in a pouring rain and won by a neck. Air Pilot was another neck away in third place and Nouredin finished fourth.

In other U.S. racing, the favored How Now, ridden by Willie Harmatz, held on Saturday to nip Battle Dance by a neck in capturing the $16,150 San Francisco Handicap at Tanforan in San Bruno, Calif. Busher Fantasy took the show spot.

L. James Rittiner's Optiquest, scored a head victory over Motor Line in the $10,000 Woonsocket handicap at Lincoln Downs.

BETTING BONANZA

At Agua Caliente, Mexico, Sunday, Brooklyn Bum won his seventh victory in nine starts Sunday by whipping War Marshal by a length in the 1 1/16-mile Laramie Handicap.

In the "5-10" handicapping contest, two bettors collected $31,581.80 each by selecting six-straight winners.

How much longer is this massacre of horses in this race to be allowed to continue?

Meanwhile, the League Against Cruel Sports—which earlier had threatened to sue the owners of Aintree race track if a horse died as a result of the race—was studying reports of inspectors it had sent to watch the race.

The league announced the inspectors reported:

"This was not a race but a gruelling and very unfair test of endurance to which no horse should be subjected."

The horse which died was Henry Purcell. It fell at notorious Becher's Brook, broke its back and had to be shot.

But there have been worse Grand Nationals. Four horses died in 1954 and in 1953 two were killed.

KELOWNA BEATS VICTORIA RETAINS B.C. CROWN

Second Undefeated Term

KELOWNA (CP)—Kelowna Teddy Bears captured their second straight British Columbia senior "B" women's basketball title, whipping Victoria B's 48-24, Saturday night.

Teddy Bears put up a sparkling zone defence which forced Victoria to shoot from well outside. More than 200 fans saw the game.

In an earlier match, Vancouver C-Fun took third place in the four-team playoff with a close 40-36 victory over Trail Silverettes.

Kelowna jumped into a 10-5 first quarter lead, 18-14 at half time and then pulled away in the last half, outscoring Victoria 30-10.

The game climaxed two undefeated seasons for Kelowna. Anita Stewart paced Teddy Bears with 12 points with Marg Vansantan and Frances Taylor adding eight each.

Bev Walls and Ev Donaldson paced Victoria, each with six points.

Earlier on Sunday, Victoria reached the final by defeating Trail, 58-38. The B's dropped their opening game of the play-off Friday night.

Vancouver jumped into an

8-0 lead in the first quarter and then held off the charging Silverettes the remainder of the way in the preliminary match.

Ann Winteringham led the way with 12 points.

ORDERS TO TAKE OUT

A 70-year-old Victoria fisherman "rescued" from Discovery Island early Sunday angrily denied today that he was ever lost.

"I was just cooking up a meal to sit out a storm," protested John Martinos, 2442 Eastdowne.

"Roast pork, potatoes and corn. Boy, it was good!" World-traveller Mr. Martinos climbed into his 16-foot open boat Saturday morning to go fishing off Oak Bay. At 1:30 p.m. he was sighted "weathering out" a wind-storm in the shelter of Discovery Island and four hours later when he had not returned to shore Air-Sea Rescue in Vancouver launched a search.

Two ships, the Superior Strait and the Sirmac, joined in, while a ground party was organized by the Discovery Island lighthouse keeper. A B.C. Pilotage boat also took part in the hunt.

Empty Boat Seen Off Discovery Is.

Three hours later the Martinos' boat was spotted riding the water off Discovery Island, apparently empty. The pilotage boat raced to the scene but could not approach the shoreline due to the shallow water.

So police called in Mark Perry, 2280 Florence, skipper of a 14-foot outboard, who had been fishing in the Discovery area earlier in the day.

Mr. Martinos was just finishing off his meal when he was "rescued," he said.

He was taken aboard the pilotage boat and taken home. The search had taken seven hours.

"But I was not lost at all," the irate fisherman said today. "I was just hiding from the storm."

"I know my way around. Anyway, I had a good day. Two fat salmon and a bunch of clams."

Concert Recalls Elizabethan Age

Something unique with special appeal to the musical connoisseur and student, was an ancient instrument concert presented at the Greater Victoria Art Gallery Sunday afternoon.

An audience numbering 60 heard brief lectures on the recorders and virginals and on Elizabethan songs forming an introduction to a 13-item program.

Artists were Joan and Joanna van der Goes playing the recorders, Ray Buckett, the virginals, and May Errington, contralto, singing Elizabethan songs.

QUAINT TITLES

Some idea of the quaintness and old world flavor of the afternoon is suggested in the titles of some numbers—"Mrs. Whites Nothing" (virginals solo), "Greensleeves to a Ground" (virginals and alto recorder), "Strike the Viol," from Ode to the Birthday of Queen Mary, 1694 (voice, recorders and virginals).

Also from the program notation: "Intermission When-ever the Virginals Gets Fractious." Virginals in this case is a singular noun as well as being a highly temperamental instrument having a piano keyboard and a plucking device to vibrate the strings instead of hammers to strike them.

All artists showed a high degree of competence in handling their rare instruments and a keen understanding of the spirit and style of the music, much of which was specifically written for virginals and the flute's ancestral recorders.

LASSIE, 'PYEWACKET' WIN ANIMAL OSCARS

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A cat and a dog today shared honors as the top animal movie and television actors of 1958.

Award-winning Lassie, the long-haired dog of the television series carrying his name, was honored for the second straight year as the best animal performer on TV by the American Humane Association at its annual "Patsy" awards program Saturday. Pyewacket, the scene-stealing cat in the movie Bell, Book and Candle, was named the top animal film actor.

Tighter Radio Rules

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Andrew Stewart, chairman of the Board of Broadcast Governors, said today the board soon will propose renewal of broadcasting licences of some stations for as short a period as one year.

He told the Canadian Association of Broadcasters this would be done to stagger renewal dates, so that a roughly equal number will come up each year.

Dr. Stewart said in his keynote address at the association's annual meeting the board will recommend to the transport department that renewals—which until now have been for five years—be for periods ranging from one to five years. He said the board believes licence renewals must not be considered to be automatic, but recognizes that there must be assurance of continuity. He added:

"It is not, therefore, the intention of the board to hold over stations any continuous threat of cancellation of licences. However, if the board is to perform its functions properly it must have an opportunity to review the performance of stations before making recommendations for renewal of licences."

He said the board endorses the association's own code of ethics on programming which says:

"It shall be the responsibility of member stations to so program the broadcasting day that, as far as possible, all groups of listeners shall have some part of the programming devoted to their special likes and desires in proportion to the relation of the members of each group to all groups. It shall be the responsibility of the member stations to meet such requirements through the best programs that available talent and ingenuity can devise."

"Whatever this does mean precisely," commented Dr. Stewart, "it certainly does not mean continuous musical recordings interspersed with news."

Remnants of '67th' In 43rd Reunion

Fifty-five veterans of the 67th Battalion (Western Scots) held their 43rd annual reunion Saturday in Lougheed's banquet hall, Douglas Street.

They served during the First World War as the pioneer battalion in the 4th Canadian Division.

The 67th were among 75,000 Canadian troops who went "over the top" April 9, 1917, in the famed battle of Vimy Ridge.

Among veterans present was Fred M. Childs, 78, of Vancouver, who was attending his first reunion since the initial get-together in 1919.

But coming from the furthest distance was the unit's former adjutant, George Linney, who made the trip from Edmonton.

Oldest man present was 86-year-old August De Clark, who is still an active dairy farmer at Ladysmith.

Signs of the toll that time has taken were noticed in the fact that about half of those present were hearing aids and many found it difficult to climb the stairs.

Playing the bagpipes was Jock Low, Duncan, one of the battalion's original pipers and his son, Jock Low Jr. of Victoria.

The "vets" drew their rum rations, reminisced, and sang the old songs played at the piano by Cecil Heaton, who used to play for the 67th when they trained at the old exhibition grounds known as the Willows. He hasn't missed a reunion since 1919.

U.K. Rocket Ace Quits in Protest

Paul H. Leyton, 44, resigned as chief rocket development engineer of the Saunders-Roe firm of aircraft builders. He told reporters that Britain is making little use of the talents of its inventors and engineers, who he said could put Britain in the forefront of rocket development.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia—Canadian edition and all the second questions a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to John Alexander, aged 12, of Winston-Salem, N.C., for his question:

What Is the Smallest Living Thing?

Let's begin with the word mouse. The virus is certainly smaller. But there is some doubt as to whether it can be called a living thing. In some respects it acts like an organism. In others it acts like a non-living, or inorganic mineral. Viruses are small enough to wriggle through the finest filter. Some attack our bodies and cause diseases such as flu and smallpox. They seem to need food and are certainly able to multiply. These are functions of living organisms. On the other hand the viruses can form crystals like inorganic minerals such as salt and sugar. These tiny things, so small that only their shadows can be seen by the electron microscope, seem to occupy a place between the world of living and the world of non-living things. The bacteria, however, are definitely organisms. Each bacterium can take in air and food and use them to carry on the functions of life. Each bacterium can multiply and hand on life.

Experts do not all agree as to which are the smallest of all living things. Most of them say it is the bacterium. A few say that it could be the virus. However, if a bacterium were as big as a horse, a virus would be no bigger than a Wide Range of Sizes

Bacteria come in assorted sizes. If some were big as elephants, others would be as small as mice. There are countless varieties and whether we like it or not, they share our world with us. Some are friendly to us. They help digest our food, purify our water supplies and aid in the manufacture of cheese, vinegar, sauerkraut and other things. A few cause disease. Most of them are neutral to us, doing us neither good nor harm.

The average bacterium is a small blob with a tail or several tails which it uses to move around. It has no mouth and it eats by dissolving the chemicals it needs. When food or moisture are scarce it waits indefinitely until things improve. When food is plentiful, it multiplies. And it multiplies by dividing in two. Each bacterium becomes its own children. So, it seems, the smallest of all living things has discovered the secret of immortality.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Zsa Zsa Gabor went to Trader Vic's naked (without her 42-carat diamond engagement ring). “A week ago I giff it back, dolling,” she said—sitting with her supposed fiancé, Hal Hayes, who nodded and said, “Yes, I sent it back to the jeweler.” Zsa Zsa explained, “I don't want people to think I'm marrying him for a ring. Vy, I can buy rings for myself, dolling!” She insisted they still plan to marry April 17. Hayes' story was different: “I sent it back to get her a bigger one!”

Sonja Henie casually mentioned at the Harwyn that she had too many houses (including one in Norway)—and sold her showplace in N.Y. When Jane Russell busted out as a singer some years ago one critic said, “I can't take my eyes off her voice.” Now she's a stand-up business at the Casa Cugat and I'd like to say, “What a singer. I put on my bifocals to listen to her!”

Hey, dig this! Art: USA exhibit at the Coliseum next month'll have nude models posing for anybody with a pad and pencil... Kim Novak's admirers thought she looked awfully sad sitting at El Morocco with beau Dick Quine, and Bill Holden, Charlie Feldman, et al., and wondered what she's got to be sad about? ... Steve Allen says he'd be glad to switch to Monday night. “With some evenings that are dull on TV, it seems silly for three of the best shows—Ed Sullivan's and ‘Maverick’—to be on the same night at the same hour.”

Why doesn't he appoint Adlai Stevenson secretary of state? Otherwise one of the Democratic candidates may make that a plank—and win. Jayne Meadows urged “Gazebo” producers to hire Alex Smith to replace her when she moves to Hollywood July 1. Alexis Smith, George Gobel's famous and beautiful “Charley”—his guitar-carrier, Marilyn Hanold—has been swiped from him.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Lana Turner, due here to publicize “Imitation of Life,” warns she won't do interviews “if they ask the wrong questions.” Ed Sullivan plans to film TVers in Rome and Vienna... Jayne Mansfield had Larry Mathews make up pink wigs for her and her daughter.

Earl's Pearls: Taffy Tuttle claims Las Vegas has the world's most changeable climate. Even the dice are hot one minute and cold the next.

Today's Best Laugh: At a local cafe a guest cattily described an aging glamor gal: “Well, it's probably true that as a girl she was very young.”

Wish I'd Said That: Lou Brecker of Roseland left on a round-the-world trip, explaining, “I want to see it while it's still there.”

Myron Cohen tells of the world's unluckiest man. He lives with his wife, daughter and mother-in-law—but it was the sound on his TV set that went off... That's earl, brother.

SCOTLAND FIGHTS BACK

Monster Mocker 'Talking Rot'

INVERNESS, Scotland (AP)—Scotland clutched the Loch Ness monster to its bosom Saturday and snapped back at an Italian newspaperman who said he invented the thing 26 years ago.

Highlanders were as indignant as if Francesco Gasparini had claimed he had invented Scotch whisky.

“The man is talking rot,” exploded John MacGillivray, 83, a pro-monster man from way back.

“The monster was in the loch before I was born,” PROTESTS ECHO

The protests echoed over the hills and glens around the sombre stretch of water where the bumpy-backed monster with bulging eyes and foghorn voice is supposed to lurk.

For many Scots, however, Gasparini's intervention was welcome, especially with the tourist season coming on.

Gasparini, writing in a Milan magazine, claimed he had drummed up the story for lack of something better to do while working in London in 1933. He said the yarn snowballed to such proportions that he just played along with it from then on.

500 YEARS AGO

Local historians said mention of a monster first popped up in the writings of a monk 500 years ago and has been swirling into print fairly regularly ever since.

Lady Maud Baillie, a sister-in-law of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, was among dozens of Scots who consider Gasparini's claim monstrous. She says she saw the beastie in April, 1950.

Three Islanders Scout Executives

VANCOUVER—Three Vancouver Island men were named to the executive committee of the Boy Scouts Association at the annual meeting here Saturday.

They are Douglas Frizzell of Bazan Bay, G. F. (Pat) Dunn and Stuart Keate of Victoria.

Mr. Keate, who retired Friday night after two years as president of the 31,000-member movement, was presented with the Baden-Powell statuette for services to scouting in B.C. and the Yukon. He was succeeded by M. J. Foley, president of the Powell River Co.

Guest speaker at the annual dinner was retired Judge George McPhee of Victoria, speaking on the subject "Our Canadian Heritage."

Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross, called back to the capital to attend prorogation of the House, was represented at the dinner by his wife, who made a short address to the 835 Scouters and friends present.

Other Victorians attending included honorary provincial commissioner T. W. S. Parsons and district president Lloyd G. Jerniman.

CIVIC WORKERS GET PAY BOOST

DUNCAN (CP) — Outside employees here will get a 5 per cent wage increase retroactive to Jan. 1 and other benefits as a result of negotiations between the city and North Cowichan Municipal Employees Union. Basic wage under the old contract was $1.67 an hour.

Two Victoria boys, Shawn Mockridge and John Clemens, were presented with Certificates of Merit by Mrs. Ross. Entertainment for the dinner was provided by Cowichan Scouts, doing Indian dances under the leadership of Abel Joe.

RECORD 'CATCH'

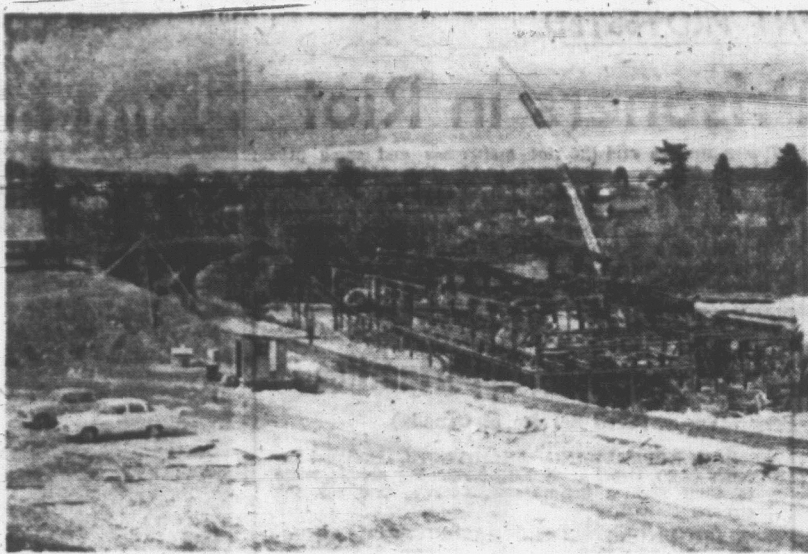

2,500-Lb. Salmon New Decoration

NANAIMO (CP) — Two large salmon—made of granite—will be a sight for visitors here this summer.

Two Nanaimo groups—the Italian-Canadian Circle and the Felice Cavallotti—are making the traffic island at the intersection of Nicol and Terminal streets into a fountain with chipped stone walks, some grass, and overhead the two salmon, each weighing 2,500 pounds.

Chief stone carver is Albert Venuti, 69, who has already worked 800 hours and estimates another few hundred hours is needed before the eight-foot, six-inch male salmon and the eight-foot female are finished.

Mr. Venuti works slowly and carefully in his backyard workshop. The fountain project also proceeds slowly, for it is being done by volunteer labor and can go ahead only when more money is received for materials. Mr. Venuti, a miner until he was injured 18 years ago, is donating his labor.

VETERAN DIRECTORS HONORED

Farmers' Institute Names Year's Slate

GANGES — Two veteran directors of Island Farmers' Institute were honored here at the annual meeting of the institute.

They were W. P. Evans, director of the institute in 1917, and W. M. Palmer, director in 1928 and chairman from 1933 to 1937, who took a particular interest in fall fairs.

D. Arnold, president of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and president of the Vancouver Island Poultry Co-operative, spoke on the B.C. federation.

George Heinekey, chairman, announced the 1959 fall fair will be held Aug. 26. Mrs. Rand Young volunteered to act as secretary to the fair committee, which will be formed shortly.

Directors elected for the coming year were T. Butt, E. Gear, G. Humphreys, J. R. Young and Mr. Heinekey, who will choose their chairman at their first directors' meeting. W. Palmer and F. Stevens were appointed auditors, and Mrs. P. Cartwright will continue as secretary.

Water Problems Topic of Special C of C Meeting

SIDNEY — Water problems will be discussed at a special meeting of Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday, at 8 p.m., at the Sidney Hotel.

It will cover water resources in Saanich, North Saanich and Central Saanich, and possibilities of their development, and plans of the Greater Victoria Water Board which affect the Saanich Peninsula.

The meeting will be open to the public.

New Outdoor Group Elects Duncan Man

CHEMUNUS — A new organization called the Island Mountain Ramblers has been formed to serve the needs of a growing number of outdoor enthusiasts.

Named president of the new group at a recent meeting was S. Watts, of Duncan, well known as a hiker and climber, who has an expert knowledge of Island mountains, trails and byways.

Harry Winstone, of Crofton, an experienced mountaineer, was named secretary.

Purpose of the club is to help people of all ages and both sexes to a better enjoyment of the lesser known beauties of mountains and valleys.

SCHEDULE

An attractive schedule of trips to various parts of the Island has been planned. Among places to be visited and explored are such attractions as Flower Ridge, in Strathcona Park; the "Golden Hind", in Central Vancouver Island; Mt. Arrowsmith and Mt. Klitsa.

Training and instruction in woodcraft, camping and mountaineering will be given.

The schedule of outdoor trips will begin over the Easter weekend with a three-day trip to Mt. Arrowsmith.

Famous Holstein Herd for Sale

PORT ALBERNI (CP) — The widely-known Holstein herd of Woodske Farm at nearby Cherry Creek will be sold April 4, together with the farm's equipment, when Gustave Woodske retires from the dairy farming business he has operated on the 21-acre farm for 23 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodske will continue to live at the farmhouse but are planning to subdivide the property.

COUGARS PROWL STREETS OF ALBERNI

PORT ALBERNI (CP) — Tracks discovered near the centre of Port Alberni Saturday showed that cougars, which have been sighted several times recently in the area, are moving further into town.

The spoor was discovered alongside an 11th Avenue home, only a few blocks from the business district. Melting snow covered the trail before a hunt could be organized.

Free Book on Arthritis And Rheumatism HOW TO AVOID CRIPPLING DEFORMITIES

An amazing book entitled "Arthritis and Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it.

It reveals why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains a specialized non-surgical treatment which has proven successful since 1919.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Write today to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 520 7, Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

TO SAFEGUARD B.C. FISHERMEN

Wives Want Coast Guard

VANCOUVER (CP) — Wives of British Columbia fishermen will start a "major campaign" this year to establish a coast guard service with ships and helicopters to safeguard lives on the Pacific Coast.

Plans for the campaign were passed in a resolution here Sunday as some 70 delegates of the women's auxiliary to the United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.) met here in a convention.

The resolution urges the federal government to supply four fast, all-weather, 125-foot vessels and five helicopters for a B.C. coast guard service. The boats would maintain constant patrol in strategic waters with emphasis on the western and northern areas off Vancouver Island.

Present search and rescue work on the west coast is done by the RCAF, department of transport and other departments with co-operation from the B.C. Towboat Owners' Association and fishermen. Delegates said they will carry their campaign to other organizations, conduct an educational program, create petitions and visit members of the B.C. legislature and members of parliament.

'Working Level' Conference Held By Ocean Experts

NANAIMO (CP) — Nearly 100 oceanographic specialists held a "working level" conference here on the weekend.

Forty delegates came here on the University of Washington fisheries research vessel Brown Bear. The others were representatives of University of B.C. and the Pacific Biological Station at Nanaimo.

Speakers included Dr. R. H. Flaxmin and Dr. J. E. Henderson of the University of Washington, Frank Favorite of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Department, and G. Y. Yarry from Juneau, Alaska.

Victoria Daily Times Silhouette Contest

No. 14

Silhouette Contest Rules

1. The Silhouette Contest is simple and easy to work. It consists of 60 silhouette drawings of widely known persons and 120 pictures. All you have to do is identify the silhouettes, not by name but by pairing them with pictures of the people you think are portrayed in the silhouettes. Each person shown in silhouette will be shown by picture but not necessarily on the same day. In addition there will be 60 pictures of other persons who will not be shown in silhouette drawings. Thus you will have 120 pictures from which to make your 60 selections to go with the 60 silhouettes. Keep the 60 left over pictures. They will be needed for the final Silhouette Scramble.
2. The contest starts on Saturday, March 7, 1959. Each day for 60 days one silhouette and two pictures will be printed. After you have paired a silhouette with a picture, paste or in some way fasten the matching pair on a single sheet of paper. All 60 sheets are to be fastened together in order and each sheet should bear your name.
3. The Times will award $750 in cash prizes to the winners. There are no entry fees. The prizes are:
1. $500
2. $100
3. $50
and four prizes of $25 each.
4. The contest is open to all residents of Vancouver Island with the exception of employees of the Times and Victoria Press Ltd. and members of their families. Not more than one prize will be awarded in any one immediate family.
5. The final silhouette and pictures will appear on Saturday, May 16, and with this set will appear a master score sheet on which you must enter the numbers of your silhouette-picture combinations. Do not send in your entries until all silhouettes and pictures have been published.
6. The contestant getting the greatest number of the 60 regular silhouettes correctly solved is automatically the winner of the first prize. Second highest score gets second prize, and so on.
7. A Silhouette Scramble will be published with Silhouette No. 60. This will consist of a number of silhouettes which are to be identified from the 60 pictures left over from the regular contest. This Silhouette Scramble—will be used by the judges ONLY in case of ties. If ties exist in the regular contest, then these contestants making the best scores in the Silhouette Scramble will be declared winners.
8. Address entries to Silhouette Contest, Victoria Daily Times, 2631 Douglas Street, Victoria. All entries must be postmarked not later than Monday, May 25. Entries must be sent with first class postage fully paid, since The Times cannot be responsible for entries delayed because of improper address or insufficient postage, or for any other reason not received at The Times in due time.
9. By entering the contest, the participant agrees to accept the decision of the judges as final.

Race Division Backed by Vote In N. Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (Reuters) — Northern Rhodesian white voters, who outnumbered native voters three to one, have given a landslide backing to Sir Roy Welensky and his United Federal party's determined stand against African nationalism.

The latest results from Friday's polling in this British protectorate Sunday gave Welensky's party 13 of the 22 elected seats, with four results still to come and two constituencies to vote next month. No other party received more than one seat.

Rhodesian Federation Prime Minister Welensky's party already controls both self-governing Southern Rhodesia and the federation, which encompasses the two Rhodesias and Nyasaland.

HIS TRUMP CARD
An absolute majority in Northern Rhodesia would give Welensky the trump card in his plan to get dominion status within the Commonwealth by 1960.

Voters gave only one seat to the Northern Rhodesia African National Congress, the only branch of the African nationalist movement which has not been outlawed in the federation.

Voting alongside 22,500 whites were 7,500 Africans. Although only 7,500 were registered to vote, it is estimated about 25,000 of Northern Rhodesia's 2,200,000 natives have the necessary qualifications for voting rights.

FOOD, TREATMENT PROTESTED

Cuban Prisoners in Riot

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban authorities talked today of isolating political prisoners following a riot in Havana's 2,000-prisoner Castillo del Principe prison.

Interior Minister Luis Orlando Rodriguez accused remnants of the Batista regime held on war crimes charges of instigating the riot Saturday night.

Prison sources said the riot developed from a demonstration charging bad food and ill treatment. Prison officials claimed only about 100 of the 2,000 prisoners participated. Guards quieted them by firing in the air after they had set mattresses and some prison records afire. Nobody was reported hurt.

The fleur-de-lis emblem of the French kings dates back to the 12th century reign of Louis VII.

Safe Yields $1,600 In Weekend Burglary

Island Farms One of Two Dairies Hit

An estimated $1,600 was reported missing by officials of the Island Farms Dairy this morning after burglars had forced the safe in the office at 2220 Blanshard Street Sunday night.

Thieves gained entrance to the building by breaking a door and window at a loading platform.

The burglary was discovered by a night watchman at 11.35 p.m.

Earlier, an unsuccessful attempt was made to crack a safe at Northwestern Creamery Ltd., 1015 Yates, sometime between 11 p.m. Saturday and 7.30 p.m. Sunday.

SECOND-STORY JOB

Entry was gained by force through a second-storey window on the east side of the building.

Company safe appeared to have been struck on top with an axe but was not opened.

Door to the stockroom was also forced but goods were reported to be intact.

City police described this attempt as "amateurish."

TOT SAVED FROM DITCH AT BELMONT

An unidentified youngster was plucked unharmed from a water-filled ditch at Belmont Park today after having fallen while playing with two older companions.

When the mishap occurred the older children, aged four years, ran to the nearby Belmont Park Fire Hall and secured the help of firemen to rescue their playmate.

Easter Dawn Service Set

Sixteenth annual sunrise service of the Victoria camp, the Gideons International in Canada, will be held Easter Sunday morning.

Service will be at 7.45 a.m. in Beacon Hill Park on the high, rocky ground east of the entry from the Douglas and Michigan intersection.

Rev. F. E. H. James, of Metropolitan United Church, will conduct the service. A Salvation Army band will provide music.

Entire service will be amplified by loudspeakers to reach cars in nearby parking lots.

"Everyone is invited to attend, especially visitors and members of youth groups, Young People's Societies, Sunday school and Bible classes," a spokesman said.

DROP DEFENCE COSTS?

Editor's View Boomed, Cheered

Complete endorsement to violent opposition featured reaction here today to Maclean's Magazine editor Ralph Allen's statement in Vancouver last week that Canada's defence budget be turned into a huge peace drive, setting the pace for other nations to follow.

Air Marshal Sir Philip Livingston, retired director-general of RAF medical services, said from his Cowichan Bay home "my feeling is a complete and utter negative to the suggestion."

Disarmament for Canada would curtail morale; if money was given other countries to the extent envisioned by Mr. Allen "they would absorb it like a great mouth absorbing food."

"I think the statement by the editor is highly irresponsible and not quite loyal."

Sir Philip said while it was "admirable" from a medical viewpoint to try to improve the health of other nations, this should be carried on through existing agencies, such as the World Health Organization.

"There should be no capitulation—it would throw everything out of balance," he said. "Plunging into a cheque-book is not going to win friends."

On the other hand, Glen Hamilton, president of the Peace By Peaceful Means Society of Victoria said "Mr. Allen's stand is what we have been fighting for, for six months."

"A defence budget—one billion 700 million last year—that doesn't defend is a pure waste. This is $300 a year for every Canadian family."

"Canada should take the lead in a positive program of

TRULY CHRISTIAN

Rev. A. I. Higgins, pastor, First United, said Mr. Allen's statement was "the biggest piece of common sense I've heard in a long time, a truly Christian statement."

Mr. Higgins, who served "halfway around the world" in the Second World War with the RCAF, said further "I feel it is the most sensible statement yet on world peace."

Dr. F. E. H. James, Metropolitan United, said "I favor his statement, with certain reservations."

He added "We must be concerned with the needs of the underprivileged, physical and spiritual."

In Vancouver, Mr. Allen's stand was termed "ravings of an idealist" and "without realism," while church leaders were mostly in accord with the editor.

BLOW-UP DUE

Juvenile Home Head To Quit Job

By AB KENT

Greater Victoria juvenile problems are expected to come to a long-awaited head with the resignation of foster home superintendent Col. William Dingley.

It is understood Col. Dingley, who with his wife has been responsible for all juveniles placed in detention from the four Victoria municipalities since May 1, 1947, will retire shortly.

Col. Dingley has said the home, located at 1527 Coldharbour Road, is "getting beyond our means."

"No one is doing anything about the whole juvenile problem, which is increasing. The ones placed in here today are a more vicious, hoodlum type than ever before."

"In the old days we could help a boy. Now the majority seem beyond help."

WORK NULLIFIED

Whatever good is accomplished with a small boy is undone as soon as he mixes with the older, harder types, the custodian pointed out.

"I don't want to be responsible any more for something that is deteriorating. Why throw money down the drain? It is going to blow, sooner or later. They can't hold it in forever."

Today's offenders in the juvenile foster home are being held for arson, rape, murder, breaking, entering and theft, Col. Dingley said.

"This is no longer juvenile delinquency."

When the home first opened, offences were of a minor nature, occasionally including detention on a theft charge. The boys and girls had simply stepped a little out of line, and could be put back on the straight course with help from the superintendent, his wife and juvenile officers.

Despite a continuation of recommendations and reports about the home since 1952, when a sinister change began to be noticed in juvenile offenders, nothing has been done to improve the home situation or juvenile legislation.

The foster home is overcrowded, there is no segregation, apart from boys and girls; facilities are inadequate.

Inter-municipal reports have been made on the home, but nothing seems to have come of them. The foster home committee, consisting of four appointed municipal councillors, has been virtually stripped of its powers and the juvenile officers from the municipalities are not even permitted a vote at the meetings.

Award-Winning Paintings At Art Gallery Next Week

Paintings by award winners and others from the Monsanto 1957 Canadian art competition will compose the exhibition to be seen at Victoria Art Gallery March 27 to April 12.

Included are six western Canadian artists, five of whom are well-known Vancouverites. These five are J. L. Shadbolt, Molly Bobak, Bruno Bobak and H. S. Webb.

Mr. Bobak was fourth prize winner with a painting entitled "Snow and Sagebrush."

No Evidence Naming Driver Of Death Car

The prosecution ended its criminal negligence case against Capt. Patrick Morrison in Assize Court today without it still being clearly established he was driver of a car involved in a fatal accident last August.

The mishap at Douglas Street and Trans-Canada Highway resulted in the death of one occupant of the car and brought serious injury to Morrison and a third occupant.

William Rance, bartender at a Victoria club, testified the three men drank two one-ounce drinks each there the day of the accident.

But they left the club "cold sober," he said.

LIGHTING GOOD

The intersection was described as "very well lighted" by police evidence and could be seen for 2,000 feet by the driver of a car approaching Victoria.

But warning flashing signs at the intersection could be seen only by drivers of cars travelling in the opposite direction, of towards Victoria on the Trans-Canada Highway.

Evidence of extricating the men from the front seat of the car was given by Const. Frank Briers, of Saanich. He said he took Capt. William Boyce to hospital ahead of the others, "because his breathing was labored and he sounded the worst of them all."

In reply to defence counsel Alan Macfarlane, witness said he "could not see the face of the man apparently behind the wheel."

All three men were dressed casually, he said, but he could not remember specifically what clothes each man wore.

Capt. Boyce died in hospital from skull and other injuries sustained in the accident.

MONTE ROBERTS

To the Editor, Victoria Times, Dear Sir:

I beg of you the privilege of a few inches of your valuable space for the purpose of making a most humble, abject, and sincere apology.

For your information, sir, I have the honor to be the founder and president of the Replace Ripple Rock Association.

(Formerly the Save Ripple Rock Association.)

The reason I request the good offices of your publication is to communicate as speedily as possible with all members of the above association.

The above-referred-to members must, I am sure, feel their president has let them down.

Badly.

Because, on Friday, at the racing establishment known as Tanforan, there was a horse entered in the first race.

And the name of this horse, Mr. Editor, and through you, all members of the association—the name of this horse was Ripple Rock.

Not only that, but after the race was concluded, who should turn out to be the winner?

Why, none other than Ripple Rock.

Furthermore, for each and every two dollars invested in the horse named Ripple Rock, a return of $36.10 was paid out.

You can see, Mr. Editor, why I am anxious to apologize to the members of the Replace Ripple Rock Association at the earliest possible moment.

As president, it was my plain duty to inform the membership Ripple Rock was entered in the first at Tanforan, thus enabling each member to invest two dollars for a return of $36.10.

To explain why I did not do so, I can only confess abysmal ignorance.

I—the man whose whole life is dedicated to Ripple Rock—did not know there existed a horse by the name of Ripple Rock.

What is more, I did not know Ripple Rock was entered in the first at Tanforan.

I know, Mr. Editor, ignorance is no excuse. But at this time, I wish to assure each and every member of our worthy organization that I, too, failed to invest two dollars on Ripple Rock and receive a return on the investment of $36.10.

I can only hope the members will accept my explanation and apology, and refrain from the impeachment which I so richly deserve.

Monte Roberts

(President, Save and/or Replace Ripple Rock Association).

Firemen believe the burned-out shell of a car above was the work of teenage pranksters Sunday afternoon.

The car, a junked model, was stored on a lot at a scrap yard in the 3000 block of Douglas.

Firemen were called when the car and other junk began to blaze at 3.19 p.m.

Exact cause was not determined.

Leak-Sprung Yacht Towed To Gabriola

The 31-foot Vancouver pleasure cruiser Whiplash was towed to Silva Bay on Gabriola Island Sunday morning after having sprung a bad leak Saturday night in Georgia Strait.

The owner, identified only as Mr. Neville, radioed Air-Sea Rescue that his craft was taking water and that weather was stormy. Water was well up over the engine when help arrived.

Immediately the tug Seaway was sent to the disabled vessel, taking it first to Dogfish Bay on Gabriola Pass, where it stood by with pumps operating all night to keep the cruiser afloat.

At daylight Seaway took the Whiplash to Silva Bay, where it was put on a shipyard ways for repairs.

The owner and two other men with him on the boat were taken back to Vancouver Sunday afternoon by a Vancouver yachtsman.

Teachers' Night At PTA Meeting

Teachers' Night will be celebrated at a meeting of the Oak Bay Junior High School PTA tonight at 8 in the school.

LUMBER MILL LAND OFFERED FOR HELIPORT

Crowe Gonnason Co. Ltd. still is trying to sell its seven-acre waterfront property for a heliport but the city and two helicopter firms are not interested.

Eric Day, spokesman for the lumber company, said today that discussions are underway with "certain parties" but no definite negotiations had started.

The company, in voluntary liquidation, is asking $250,000 for its mill site at Government and Bay.

An approach to City Hall to see if the city would buy the property for a heliport site was unsuccessful. The city already has a heliport site marked out in the industrial reserve.

Spokesmen for both Okanagan Helicopters Ltd. and Vancouver Island Helicopters Ltd. denied that they had made any bids. Both men said they were not interested in acquiring heliport sites.

Million Daffs Shipped by Local Growers

More than a million choice daffodils were shipped to the mainland from Pat Bay Airport Sunday in two North Star planes hired by Vantreight's, leading Saanich growers.

The first shipment was flown non-stop to Winnipeg; the second to Toronto, Montreal and Halifax, with one stopover at Winnipeg.

Similar large shipments are leaving the airport today and all this week.

"We expect to ship a total of 8,000,000 blooms to all parts of B.C., the prairies and eastern Canada during the current season," Geoff. Vantreight Jr., said today.

"The quality this year is exceptional and we expect to get 75 per cent of our crop away this week. This promises to be a record season both in volume and quality."

All of the daffodils shipped so far belong to the choice King Alfred class grown by Vantreight's on their 400-acre farm. More than 250 workers are engaged on the current crop.

There are about 90 large and small growers of daffodils in the southern part of Vancouver Island and all are enjoying rich crops—the result of mild weather earlier this year.

Black Ball Ferry Engineers' Wage Settlement Near

A settlement in the marine engineers' pay dispute with the Black Ball Ferries is expected this week, a union official said today.

Denis McKeown, business agent of the National Association of Marine Engineers, said his prediction followed arrival of Black Ball, United States managing director Alec Peabody, in Vancouver, for talks scheduled for 1.30 p.m. today.

The engineers and Merchant Service Guild want an approximate 25 per cent boost paralleling wage increases won by officers on Canadian Pacific Steamships.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

City engineer James C. Garnett and city technical planner Roderick Clack will outline Victoria's downtown improvement plan of parking garages and pedestrian malls Thursday at 8 p.m.

Theatre Full Of Students For Symphony

Classical and modern music was performed by Victoria Symphony Orchestra at its final concert for school children today.

Some 1,500 Grade VII and VIII pupils filled Royal Theatre for the first hour-long performance this morning. The program was repeated for another 1,500 students at 11 a.m.

On the program were the Toreador Song from Bizet's Carmen, the Andante from Haydn's Surprise Symphony, excerpts from Peter and the Wolf, and selections from South Pacific.

Similar concerts were performed for students on March 2. The school series was financed from a $10,000 Canada Council grant which paid for rentals and bus transportation for the pupils.

Victoria will play host to the 1959 convention of Pacific Northwest Sourdoughs' Association August 27 through 30.

Plans for the convention were announced at the Vancouver Yukoner's Association annual dinner Saturday in the mainland city.

Registrations are still being accepted for YMCA So-Ed Club courses which started last week.

Over 30 members are now enrolled in four classes covering investments, motor mechanics, ceramics and square dancing.

Courses are scheduled to finish May 12 with a dance and social.

Pleading guilty to impaired driving, James A. Bryce, 1272 Pembroke, was fined $250 in city police court today. His licence was suspended for one year.

Hugh H. Lightbown, formerly of Vancouver, pleaded guilty in city police court today of passing a worthless cheque at T. Eaton Co. Ltd., and obtaining merchandise valued at $42.27.

Magistrate William Ostler remanded him for sentence on Thursday after being informed by city prosecutor T. P. O'Grady that other charges were pending.

Silver Threads Handicraft Club will meet Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Moose Hall, 512 Fort Street.

A free program of recorded music will be presented Tuesday at 7.30 p.m. in the Victoria Public Library music room.

Feature recording will be Brahms' Third Symphony Orchestra under Fritz Reiger and a composition of the conductor's will be played by violinist Francescatti.

Clouds will "break up" tonight in time to give clear skies and sunshine Tuesday morning, weatherman William Mackie said today.

The clearing will not last long, however. A storm in the Pacific Ocean is expected to give cloud Tuesday afternoon and rain by Tuesday evening. Winds will be light, and temperatures tonight and Tuesday will range between 40 and 50 degrees.

Victoria MLA J. Donald Smith will continue his battle against the city's View Street parking garage and mall plan in an address Tuesday to a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Electrical Club in the James Bay Hotel.

A meeting of the Esquimalt High School PTA will be held tonight at 8 in the school.

Your Secrets Will Be Safeguarded

All employees of the income tax division are bound by an oath of secrecy not to divulge any information to unauthorized persons.

The courts have ruled that, although income tax officials may be required to give evidence in criminal proceedings, they cannot be subpoenaed to give evidence in civil actions.

While the tax officials will withhold information from all but the taxpayer or his authorized representative, the taxpayer, of course, is required to be somewhat less secretive when he is setting down information on his return.

A special note re the 1958 Dominion government bond conversion:

Many persons exchanged old government bonds for the new bonds in 1958, and at that time received a cash payment. Part of this cash payment represented accrued interest on the old bonds and is taxable income in the hands of the recipients.

The balance of the cash payment was, for the ordinary investor, a non-taxable premium or bonus.

The interest element varied, depending on date of maturity of the converted bonds.

Details as to the interest element on each converted issue can be obtained from the investment dealer, bank or trust company that handled the exchange, or from the Income Tax Department.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Advice to 'Young Mother'!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "Young Mother" who stood by and watched her "ill-tempered" husband beat their 5-month-old twin babies with a belt made me sick. "See a Doctor?" All this man needs to see is the inside of a padded cell! He is absolutely insane. And any wife who has to write to a stranger to find out what to do is also insane. If I had her address, I'd call the wagon.

MRS. F. C. K.

DEAR ABBY: It's too damned bad "Young Mother" didn't know what to do when her husband beat those five-month-old twins with a belt. Didn't that woman have a big heavy oak chair to crash over the back of his head?

EMMA.

DEAR ABBY: When my baby was 13 months old, my husband took the flat-iron cord to him and whipped him until he drew blood. The very first moment my husband was out of the house, I packed my baby and left. Within six months my husband went blind and when they took him to the hospital they discovered he had a tumor in his head the size of a lemon. He had been sick all this time, but thank God I didn't let him beat my baby to death.

MRS. X

DEAR ABBY: I lost twin boys at birth so you can imagine what that letter did to me when I read of the father belting them in their cribs because their crying kept him awake. That dirty low-down skunk should be tied to a tree and horsewhipped. And any woman who would live with a man who acts like this is sicker than he is.

MRS. J. L. G.

DEAR ABBY: God help those poor little twin babies whose crazy father beat them with a belt. If the mother hasn't got the guts to bang a frying pan over his head, why doesn't she call the police? We have youngsters (twins included) but if my husband ever laid a finger on a little one that way, he wouldn't be walking around today, let me tell you. BOILING MAD.

DEAR ABBY: If I told you what I thought of that filthy brute of a coward who beat those defenceless babies with his strap you could never get it by the censors. I just had to put in my two cents to tell you that any mother who'd let that happen to her babies without lifting a hand to protect them should turn herself over to the insane asylum. She is certainly not mentally qualified to take care of her children. As for him—what should be done to him also cannot be printed. W. L. L.

A POLICEMAN.

Do your parents really trust you? Get ABBY's booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants to Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, in care of this newspaper.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

SPADEA'S INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER PATTERN

S427

IRENE GILBERT of Ireland

Irene Gilbert has a way all her own when she handles scissors, cutting the goods to fall with fluidity, moulding it to make the most of the wearer's figure. This surprise-bodice dress has a wrap-around look, but is really a step-in model good up to size 20. Using side pleats only in front, she keeps the silhouette slender at the sides, eases the back with an inverted pleat. The collared V neckline is wonderfully flattering to any face, but does wonders for slimming down-neck and jaw lines. Make it in plain or printed fabrics, the silk, cottons, linen, crepe, novelty weaves or thin wools. From this size chart select the one size best for you:

| Size | Bust | Waist | Hips | Length from nape of neck to waist |
|------|--------|--------|--------|-----------------------------------|
| 10 | 34 | 24 | 35 | 16 1/2 inches |
| 12 | 35 | 25 | 36 | 16 1/2 inches |
| 14 | 36 1/2 | 26 1/2 | 37 1/2 | 17 inches |
| 16 | 38 | 28 | 39 | 17 1/2 inches |
| 18 | 40 | 30 | 41 | 17 1/2 inches |
| 20 | 42 | 32 | 43 | 17 1/2 inches |

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 45-inch material for dress with 1/2-length sleeves. To order Pattern No. S-427, state size, send $1.25. For new Jumbo 144-page International Designer Pattern Book B-C, send $1.25. Address SPADEA, c/o Norman Hartnell (Canada) Ltd., 214 Main Street, Toronto 13, Ont. Please allow 2 weeks for delivery.

Education Group Hears Miss Grace Dolmage

March meeting of the local branch, Association for Childhood Education International, was held in the Foul Bay Road home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Peitersen, in the form of a buffet supper. Affair was planned to honor the speaker, Miss Grace Dolmage, assistant professor at College of Education, University of British Columbia.

Supper table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with an arrangement of mauve tulips, daffodils and matching candles.

Miss Dolmage later spoke to a large gathering of members and friends, outlining the history of the ACEI and describing the "ever open doors" to those seeking help from headquarters at Washington, D.C.

She told of many extra services the new ACEI building will bring to all branches and "to assist with the betterment of education in general."

The speaker urged the local group to think about the "formation of a Canadian board and how British Columbia and Victoria in particular might be leaders in this endeavor."

Miss Dolmage was introduced by Mrs. Enid M. Webster and thanked by Mrs. Dorothy Toder.

Four Pretty Attendants With Bride Shirley Dawson

Four attractive attendants formed the bridal entourage at Saturday evening wedding of Miss Shirley Margaret Dawson and George Henry Neufeld.

Bridesmatron, Mrs. Violet Powell, sister of the bride, wore a champagne and copper brocade and chiffon sheath dress and carried yellow carnations and white narcissi. The bridesmaids, Miss Donna Chalke, cousin of the bride, and Miss Gladys Dien were in blue brocade and chiffon sheath dresses and carried blue carnations and white narcissi. Flower girl, Janice Bruce, wore white organdy trimmed with blue eyelet bows and carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses, carnations and narcissi.

Ceremony was held in Hope Lutheran Church, decorated with spring flowers for the occasion. Rev. C. C. Janzow officiated. Soloist was G. Jensen.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Dawson of Victoria, and the groom, stationed in HMCS Naden, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Neufeld of Rosthern, Sask.

A full-length gown of white brocade and lace, fashioned with lily point sleeves, made by her sister, was worn by the bride. Her full-length illusion net veil was held with a seed pearl headress and she carried red roses and white feather carnations in her bouquet. She was given in marriage by her brother, T. Dawson.

Harley Dyck was best man and Steven Cassidy and Peter Vergouwen, the ushers.

Reception was in the Golden Slipper Supper Club where Mrs. Dawson, wearing an electric blue floral silk sheath gown with black and white accessories and pink rose corsage, assisted in receiving guests. Also in the receiving line was Mrs. H. Dyck, representing the groom's parents.

A wedding cake made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. E. Bruce, centred the head table. It was topped with red roses and flanked by spring flowers.

The bride proposed the toast.

Travelling on honeymoon to Seattle, the bride wore a green sheath jacket dress, tangerine hat and gloves, black accessories and corsage of tangerine tinted Talisman roses. On return the couple will live at 2651 Cedar Hill Road.

Harsh Soaps Rot Elastic—This Soap Saves Its Life!

By PENNY SAVER

Help at last! For elastic, that is.

Did you know that every time you put that elasticized bra or girdle into hot sudsy water you are "doing in" the elasticized rubber? Most soaps take all the life and stretch out of it in no time—and many regular washing products actually rot it!

Mercifully (for the elastic and the pocketbook) a special shampoo has been developed specifically for care of elastic garments.

It has ingredients that will remove all natural body oils that elastic absorbs—oils that cause cracking and yellowing. Other components actually renew lost elastic vitality!

Use it in cool water. This bra and girdle "shampoo" comes in an attractive white polyethylene bottle, with pretty gold top—large size $1.50.

Having a tea or a bridal shower? So many bride-to-be's are being honored now—with spring here. It's an ever so nice way to get together with friends too.

For that next affair I've found real conversation piece guest towels and serviettes. Those clever California and New York artists are producing the prettiest designs imaginable—and we can appreciate and enjoy them in a really practical way!

Spanking smart and cocky modernistic fish swim along the border of one set of these mock-fibre towels. Others have pretty Scandinavian design or roses. No fussy ironing afterwards, either—just pop 'em in the waste paper basket! (Packet of towels is 50 cents.)

Smart as paint serviettes—from tiny tea size—right through middle—to large dinner napkin size—are 30 cents a cellophane wrapped packet.

Having trouble ironing around sleeves and shoulders of your favorite blouse? Or do you have a little girl whose dainty outfits need ironing constantly? Save time, nerves and burned fingers and clothes with this handy ironing mitt. You put insulated and thickly padded mitt under that shoulder or difficult gather then iron right over it—out go wrinkles! It's just made for hard-to-get-at corners, puffy sleeves, fancy edges and curved hems—a real blessing for the harried ironer. Mitt is 89 cents.

CROWN ROAST OF LAMB

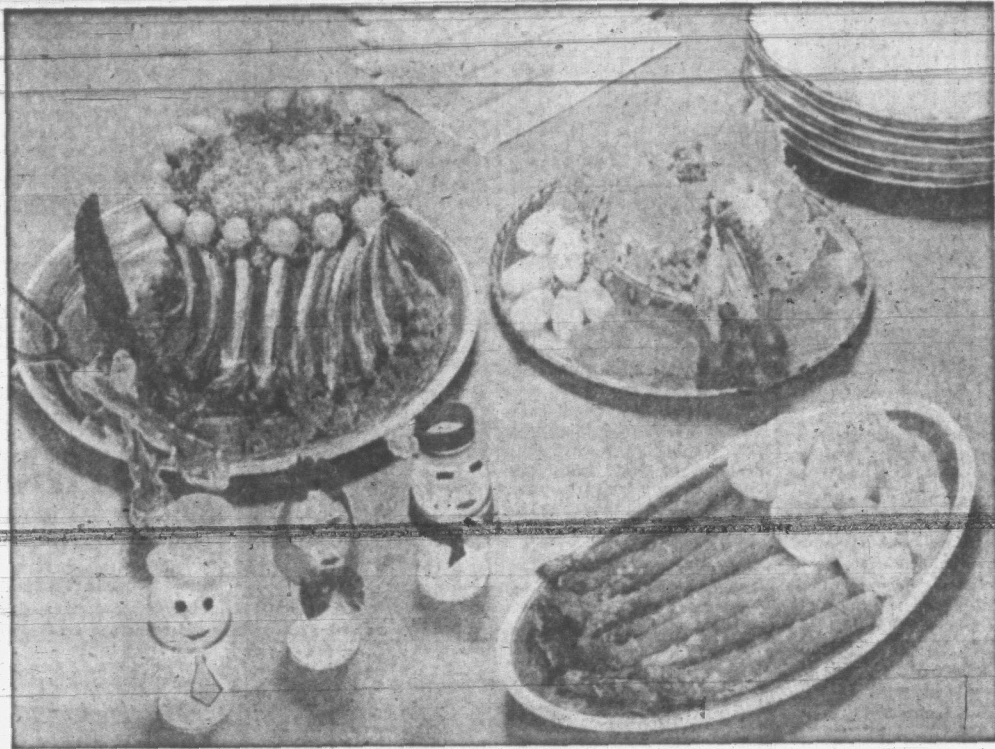

TABLE-TOP ROYALTY for Easter is a crown of lamb roast, with fresh mushroom stuffing.

Because Easter celebrates the rebirth of hope and the coming of spring select a dinner menu in harmony with the fresh beauty of the season.

EASTER DINNER: Fresh pineapple and strawberry cup, crown roast of lamb with fresh mushroom stuffing, gravy, new potatoes, fresh asparagus, rolls, spring salad bowl, frozen lemon tarts, coffee, platter of "finger" fruits, cheese and crackers.

Crown Lamb Roast with Fresh Mushroom Stuffing (Yield: 6 to 8 servings)
The crown of lamb roast usually contains from 12 to 15 ribs. Wipe with a damp cloth and rub both sides with $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt mixed with $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon ground black pepper. Place on a rack in a shallow baking pan. Fill centre with fresh mushroom stuffing. Wrap ends of ribs separately with foil to prevent charring. Cover top of stuffing with foil. Bake 1 hour in a preheated slow oven (324 degrees F.). Remove foil from rib ends. Wash and boil small mushrooms 1 minute in $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch boiling water, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt. Drain; dip each in melted butter or margarine and place one on each rib. Bake 15 minutes. Garnish with fresh parsley just before serving. Serve gravy flavored with salt, black pepper and garlic powder.

Fresh Mushroom Stuffing (Yield: Sufficient stuffing for a 15-rib crown lamb roast)
Remove caps from $\frac{1}{2}$ pound small mushrooms and save enough to garnish each rib of the roast. Slice remaining mushrooms and saute in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter or margarine and 1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice along with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup each, chopped fresh onion and chopped celery. Combine with 1 quart toasted bread cubes (measure after toasting), $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped fresh parsley, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon ground black pepper and 2 tablespoons water. Mix lightly. Spoon into centre of crown lamb roast.

Frozen Easter Lemon Tarts (Yield: 12 servings)
Thoroughly beat 3 egg yolks in the top of double boiler. Add $\frac{1}{4}$ cup fresh lemon juice, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup granulated sugar and $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt. Beat well. Cook over hot water (not boiling) until custard coats a metal spoon. Chill thoroughly. Stir in 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind and 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Beat 3 egg whites until stiff. Fold into lemon mixture. Fold in one cup heavy cream, whipped. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon of fine vanilla wafer crumbs on the bottom of 12 No. 85 fluted paper baking cups. Fill with lemon mixture. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon of green shredded coconut, over each tart. Freeze until firm. Just before serving, top tarts with colored jelly beans.

Clothes Deserve an After-Work Touch-Up

When you come home from a rugged day at the office, you want to get out of your clothes and into loose, comfortable garments. It's possible that the only concession you'll make to your wardrobe is to hang up your dress.

But no smart woman depends entirely on the cleaners to keep her clothes in good order. Remember that your clothing went through the same hard day that you had.

You wouldn't leave your living-room undusted and cluttered after the family had used it for the evening. And, by the same token, you should never hang up a dress you've worn without first giving it a good brushing and looking it over for small tears.

It might seem like an exhausting procedure when you have just returned from eight hours at the office, but 15 minutes devoted to your clothes after you remove them each night will give you months of extra wear.

Besides, what could be more pleasant than opening a closet or drawer, knowing you will have the full choice of your wardrobe in readiness for the next wearing at any time?

LOVELY HANDS

Any well-groomed teen-ager will have well-kept hands. But does she know what to do with them?

Your hands can be smooth and soft, your nails beautifully manicured, but if you cannot use your hands in a gracefully relaxed manner, you'll find they're unattractive.

There's nothing attractive about a girl who is always picking at her clothes or patting her hair. And there's nothing more annoying to watch than someone who is constantly drumming her fingers on the nearest table top.

When you're seated, hold your hands lightly in your lap, fingers relaxed, or keep one hand in your lap and the other on a chair arm. But don't fidget!

If your hands become tense and moist, squeeze them tightly into fists, then let them go limp. When you are alone, shake your hands until they become less tense.

Well-groomed, relaxed hands give you a feeling of poise. If you have them, you'll forget yourself and enjoy your conversation with others.

FOR BEAUTY

A too-high forehead can detract from beauty but, at least, it's a fault that can be concealed.

Always keep a high forehead powdered so that a shine will not make it more noticeable. A slightly darker shade of powder than that used on the rest of the face helps, too. Wispy bangs, any eyebrows arched a little higher than usual, are also good minimizers.

Try all of these tricks, and you'll find your forehead and face will appear beautifully symmetrical.

Recent Marrieds Now Travelling By Train, Air to German Home

A posting to Germany for the groom means a train trip to Montreal and trans-Atlantic flight for recently married couple Gnr. John David Thomson and Mrs. Thomson.

They exchanged vows in First Baptist Church, Rev. G. R. Easter officiated. Baskets of daffodils, tulips, iris and gladioli filled the church for the wedding, Mrs. J. S. Rippon sang "I Love You Truly" during the ceremony.

Bride is the former Violet Faye Wagg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wagg, Victoria. The groom, a gunner in the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Keller, North Surrey, B.C.

A floor-length gown of nylon over lace was chosen by the bride for her wedding day. The lace bodice with lily-point sleeves was trimmed with pearls. A nylon tulle headpiece trimmed with orange blossoms held three-quarter length veil and her bouquet was a cascade of pink rapture roses and feathered carnations. A single strand of pearls with matching earrings, gift of the groom, was the bride's only jewelry. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor Mrs. G. W. Wagg and bridesmatron Mrs.

J. Wren wore ballerina dresses of pink and turquoise nylon over lace. Their bouquets were pink tulips and narcissus.

Little Barbara Rippon, the niece of the bride, wore a ballerina gown of daffodil yellow brocade taffeta. Her poke bonnet matched her gown and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and tulips.

A navy blue and black printed silk two-piece dress with a pale blue hat was chosen by the bride's mother.

Best man was George Wagg and ushers were Stan Rippon and Robert Aske.

A reception was held in the Golden Slipper Supper Club following the ceremony. On the bride's table, a three-tier cake was surrounded with white tulle, and flanked by glowing candles.

Albert Wagg, the bride's uncle, proposed the toast.

Mrs. Thomson travelled in a light green suit, complemented by a coat in a darker shade and pink and black accessories. She wore a pink rose corsage.

Poor Posture Leads to Wrinkles

The way that you hold your head when you read or walk has a good deal to do with the appearance of your neck.

If you hold your head high when you're reading and look at faces as you walk, chances are your neck is smooth and wrinkle-free. But if you hunch over your book, digging your chin into your collarbone and if you stare at the sidewalk as you walk along, chances are equally good that you're collecting a sizable web of wrinkles under the chin and a series of unlovely circles around your neck.

Posture may sound like a dull word but it has a good deal to do with your being a beauty. The fact is, no woman can possibly be a beauty unless she has posture that's nearly perfect.

The bent knee, the drooping head, the slouching walk, the curved back can all conspire to turn a woman into a caricature of what she might be.

WEAR GLOVES

Gals who find that their hands remain rough in spite of cleaning might resort to a trick of grandma's—white cotton gloves worn to bed at night.

It works like this: Cream your hands thoroughly, using one, two or three coats, as necessary. Then don a pair of clean old white cotton gloves. The cream or lotion will stay where it belongs, on your hands, during the night. And it will have time to do a job penetrating and smoothing the skin. The gloves can go into the washer during the day and be ready for the next evening.

Floor mopping, dishes and cleaning the bathroom are all essential to good housekeeping and rough on the hands. If yours are the kind you'd rather sit on at a tea or cocktail party, try giving them the old glove routine. It really works.

If you find that your lipstick tends to cake and peel off in cold weather, try using a lip pomade before you apply lipstick. This acts just as a liquid foundation does in protecting your skin and creating a base. The lipstick will stay smooth and creamy for hours.

MON., MAR. 23, 1959

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Oldnall, 901 Hereward Road, wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Margaret Marchant, Port Colborne, Ont. The wedding will take place on Saturday, April 25, at 7:30 p.m., in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church with Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiating. Only bride attendant will be Miss Marion Oldnall. The best man will be Mr. Charles McFarlane, and the ushers, Mr. D. Baie and Mr. Rene Reinhardt. (Photo by Kandid Kamera.)

Carol Vernon Chooses Gown of Colonial Lace

A classic gown of colonial lace over satin, with floor-length veil floating from a coronet, formed the bridal ensemble of Carol Ann Vernon at her recent wedding. She carried red roses and white carnations.

Bride is daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Vernon, Victoria, and the late Mr. Reginald Vernon. Groom is Norman Oscar Winquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Winquist, of Youbou.

Lady Dog Trainer Trains All Breeds

CALGARY (CP)—All days are "dog days" with Mrs. Eileen Fraser, who trains dogs and dog-owners.

She gets both at the Alberta Kennel Club's dog obedience classes. She has worked with all types of dogs, from Huskies to the toy breeds popular with city folk, and says she has yet to see the dog she could not train.

She does all the kennel work herself, and is having spacious kennels and runs built.

Rev. Douglas Carr heard the vows in Centennial United Church. J. A. White sang "The Lord's Prayer" and organist was Mrs. M. Wilmshurst.

Raymond Paine gave the bride in marriage. Bridal attendants, Bonnie Crago and Audrey Winquist wore pale green chiffon over taffeta with a bouquet of pink carnations and pale coral chiffron with green carnations, respectively.

At a reception held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Crago, a three-tier cake was arranged with white candles in silver holders on a white linen tablecloth.

Raymond Paine proposed the bridal toast.

The bride's mother chose a sheath-style dress in teal-blue to receive guests and the groom's mother was in a navy blue and white ensemble.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs.

Lloyd Bjork, Comox; Mrs. Margaret Mayne, Vancouver; and Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson, Ivan and Ruth from Richmond, B.C.

A tan tweed suit, black coat and a feather hat formed the bride's travelling costume.

Following a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle the couple will live in Victoria.

Pioneers' Encampment

March encampment for the Pioneer Club of Langford Baptist Church was in the form of a mothers and pals' tea held in the church.

Eleanor Ruffie was master of ceremonies and program included pianoforte solos by Shirley Milne and Margaret Adam and a dramatization of the "Good Samaritan" by the Pilgrims.

Awards were presented by Mrs. P. Nattingsley, chairman of the Pioneer committee, as follows: Badges for kitchen craft, Ellenor Graham; song, Karen Nattingsley and Shirley Milne; loyalty, sight-seeing and missions, Shirley Milne; food arts, Shirley Brydon and Eleanor Ruffie.

A voyager rank went to Susan Dale and pathfinder to Eleanor Ruffie. Red attendant strips for 36 out of 40 meetings went to Valerie Johnson, Sharon Newcomb, Ellenor Graham, Eleanor Ruffie and Carol Newcomb. Prize for best poster on courtesy was won by Susan Dale.

On behalf of the girls, Judy Dunstan presented Mrs. Nattingsley with a gift. Theme of the program was "Love."

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Eyes Are So Important; Give Them Proper Care

Our eyes and mouth tell the world a great deal about us. There are two schools of thought. One believes that the eyes are our most expressive and characteristic feature. The other feels that the mouth is more revealing.

Actually, the sum total of personality and physical appearance is the answer. However, when we really love someone we find that unforgettable pictures have been etched on our subconscious and reappear in memory. A characteristic light in the eye of one we love or a curve of the lips is highlighted forever for us.

Anyway, we all know that eyes can make a plain face beautiful or a beautiful face dull. We think of eyes in such romantic or personalized terms that we sometimes forget that they are very complex and delicate organs; it is unfortunate we abuse them.

Long ago the eye did not have to meet the requirements of close work under artificial light or hours spent in reading or looking at television or movies.

Maybe it is time to give our eyes a break. Do you read in poor light? Do you hold your book at an odd angle while slumping in a chair or reading in bed? Do you work for hours without giving your eyes short rest periods? Do you shun glasses you need and squint and thus place a strain on your eyes with resulting fatigue to yourself?

We should remember, too, that our eyes deserve regular examinations just as our teeth and our body do. Many folks strain their eyes and suffer from headaches and weariness because they need glasses but do not know it.

Today eyeglasses actually are ornamental. They can add to a woman's appearance because they are available in such variety in shape and color.

You can make yourself prettier if you choose the right type glasses. These should be tried on and studied just as you do when buying a hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. MacKay will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday with an "at home" in Centennial United Church Hall from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 7 to 9.30 p.m. They were married in the Scotch Kirk, Mhow, India, where they were members of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in central India. They returned to Canada in 1912, and after Mr. MacKay completed post-graduate work at Iowa State College he joined the staff of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture and later the federal dairy branch. The MacKays lived for 35 years on the prairies with headquarters at Winnipeg and came to Victoria when Mr. MacKay retired to live at 3474 Gorge Road West. Expected in the city for the anniversary is a son James, Winnipeg, and Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Colwell of Maple Bay. A daughter, Mrs. A. B. Young, Victoria, and a granddaughter, Miss Margaret Young, a student at University of British Columbia, will also be present.

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

Tea—The Guild of Sunshine, Ganges, Salt Spring Island, made plans for a spring tea and sale of work in Mahon Hall, Saturday, April 4. Mrs. J. Snape was named convener. A donation of $10 was voted for Red Cross. Mrs. G. Lowe presided. Retiring president, Mrs. F. Newnham, received a bouquet on behalf of the guild, from Mrs. J. Catto.

Conveners—At meeting of Navy League Chapter, IODE, the following conveners were named: Mrs. G. Norman, films; Mrs. G. Painter, immigration and citizenship; Mrs. R. Shanks, Empire and world affairs and membership; Mrs. M. Marshall and Mrs. M. Stone, services at home and abroad, to assist Mrs. P. George.

Ladies Guild—St. Peter's Anglican Church, Lake Hill, Wednesday, 8.15 p.m., home of Mrs. J. F. Hallier, 1198 Reynolds Road.

On Etiquette

Guest Tells Vulgar Story

A guest at a party at our home the other night told a vulgar story to the whole company, many of whom he had met for the first time. I took him aside and asked him to leave. My husband says I was rude and that I owe him an apology. Please tell me what you think.

Louise

Louise Davis Answers:

Although your guest was crude and extremely rude, you would have smoothed over a very awkward and embarrassing situation had you asked your husband to take him aside to advise him to cease his vulgarity. If the man happened to continue with his off-color stories, your husband would then have the right to ask him to leave. Even though you were pretty harsh in ordering him to leave, I don't think you owe him an apology. Let's hope he learned a good lesson from his stiff sentence.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—This a.m. you can put behind you a mountain of odds and ends by adopting a different attitude and using new system. Then arguments cease and you put all of your affairs on a more solid footing. Come through with obligations made.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—This morning you will be at your most charming best and so should take advantage of this by putting your best foot forward with the right people. P.M. do not be jealous of loved one. Extravagance is not necessary, either.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Get everything running smoothly at-abode. Then you can enjoy a fine social day by being very kind and thoughtful of others. Any show of selfishness could, however, lose you valued friendships and some security you have laboriously built up.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Do your shopping in a.m. and write all important letters. Then invest in appliances that will make your regular work easier. Take care you do not start a verbal conflagration at home by some unguarded remarks in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Financial affairs stand a chance of improving materially if you seek new ways and means or consult with real expert. Later in the day, be most careful while out driving or walking and do not let the Leonie tongue run loose.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Put all as best suits your taste in a.m. Guard against being extravagant later for temporary pleasure. Impress important persons with your commonsense and that you have your feet on the ground at all times.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—A.M. is excellent for furthering your career with determination and cheer. Latter part of the day you get much competition in all that you want to do, so take it philosophically. Smile.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—A.M. is fine time to ferret out that which puzzles. Then you can quietly and methodically straighten out all of your problematical affairs without irking anyone who has power over your personal and business matters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Work along harmoniously with good pal in a.m. and you will get much further in your career. Later, do not be forceful or you run up against some pretty stiff competition and arguments. Take it easy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Straighten out whatever is not satisfactory in all departments of your life today. Do it carefully. A person in authority who is out of sorts may try to take it out on you if you are available. Keep busy and be safe.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—A new understanding or a fresh new personality will revive your lagging spirits in a.m. Be careful during latter-part of day and do not let your temper get out of hand, or run after the will-o'-the-wisp. Follow set regulations.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—A correct intuition or a good idea from a pal are what is needed this a.m. and it will be forthcoming. Be careful you do not become extravagant, however. Do not criticize a pal of long standing, either. Remain courteous.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TUESDAY... The pretty child born Tuesday is the type whom everyone will love and want to spoil in adolescent years. Nonetheless, this could be very bad training for the productive years of this youngster's life. Be first to show firmness and educate your progeny formally, giving attention to the artistic bent and not neglecting the spiritual. Then the success in this chart is quite remarkable.

More Work, Less Jobless In February Than Year Ago

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian employment rose and unemployment declined in February, the government reported today.

Unemployment at February 21 was estimated at 537,000, down 1,000 from a month earlier and down 26,000 from 563,000 a year earlier.

The decline in unemployment from February of 1958 represented the first year-to-year drop in 26 months.

Meanwhile, employment at February 21 advanced to 5,547,000 from 5,538,000 a month earlier, despite the trend of past years for a moderate decline at this time of year.

Employment in February, 1958, the recession low point, was 5,395,000—some 152,000 below the employment level in February this year.

RECOVERY SPREAD WIDE

"The recovery of recent months has been fairly widespread, affecting most major industry groups," the government said in a statement accompanying the figures.

"Activity in forestry was maintained at a higher level than last winter. Construction employment has been higher than a year ago over the past two months, in large part resulting from increased construction undertaken under the municipal winter work incentive program.

"In manufacturing, the main upturn has been in the production of motor vehicles, household appliances and wood and textile products."

With these statistics, the National Employment Service released figures showing that at February 19 there were 791,210 persons registered for jobs with the service. This compared with 775,658 in January and 838,499 in February, 1958.

FALSE TEETH

natural teeth

Let's face it. Dentures may look natural but they just can't be cleaned like natural teeth. You may have noticed the way unsightly stains appear on the plate and on the teeth themselves.

The answer to the problem of cleaning false teeth is to use Steradent every day. It's specially made for the job. Steradent cleans dentures gently, thoroughly and safely. Steep your dentures in Steradent every day. Stains will vanish. Both teeth and plate will be clean and pure in every crevice.

STERADENT

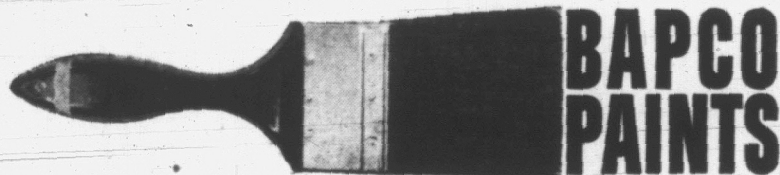

Specially made to clean dentures properly

You can prove Steradent's superiority without risking a penny. For free sample, fill out this coupon and mail to Reckitt & Colman (Canada) Limited, Dept. A, 1000 Avenue St., Montreal, P.Q.

"This Victor Estate Wagon is our kind of car!"

"The Victor Estate Wagon is about the best car our family has ever had. It has everything. It's a smart, economical town car. And it has more than 45 cubic feet of loading space to take all our gear when we go away for weekends and holidays. Vauxhall is such a 'fun' car to drive, too. Why not take one out for a demonstration yourself?" See your local Vauxhall dealer.

ON THE RUN FOR FISHERMEN

Wicks Booed, Heckled

VANCOUVER (CP)—Union fishermen booed and jeered Labor Minister Lyle Wicks when he addressed their annual convention here Saturday.

The minister arrived 15 minutes behind schedule at the crowded hall and left 45 minutes later to "keep a three o'clock appointment."

"You may have your three o'clock appointment but trade unionists will see to it you will not have an appointment in the next B.C. government," roared one delegate as Mr. Wicks hurried from the room.

"I'm sorry you could not stay because we have thousands of questions we would like to have asked you," said Steve Stavanes, president of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union. Previously Stavanes introduced the minister to the convention by saying: "He was supposed to be here at two o'clock, but was a little late." In his half-hour address, Mr. Wicks spent only a few minutes talking about the government's new Trade Unions Act. "The time no longer exists for special dispensations and protections that were needed by unions 50 years ago," he said. "The new act established a balance between management and labor."

"Hogwash," muttered a delegate.

He was booed when he said the act provides for only two of at least 17 labor act changes demanding by management groups.

Union secretary Homer Stevens managed to get in one question before Mr. Wicks left: "Did any unionist ask for the changes you rushed through the legislature?"

The minister said none had, and headed for the door.

16-DAY SPOKANE HUNT ENDS

Girl's Body Found Under Pine Needles

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Nine-year-old Candy Rogers was found dead in the woods under a pile of pine needles Sunday, raped and strangled with a piece of her own slip.

Another piece of cloth torn from the slip had been used to tie her legs together. An autopsy showed she had been criminally assaulted and had been dead for two weeks.

Six Youths Fined $25

Six Nanaimo youths aged 18-20 each were fined $25 when they pleaded guilty in Colwood RCMP court Friday to charges of causing wilful damage totalling $6.45 at Island Auto Court March 1.

Police said dishes were broken, walls and bedding stained by beer after a party at the motel.

The youths were James Dawes, Leonard Kropielinski, William Russell, Arthur Crocker, Robert Kosich and Homer Waffle. Dawes was fined an additional $25 on a charge of stealing a blanket from the motel. He said he did not realize what he was doing because of drinking.

The grim discovery 40 yards off a dirt road and 12 miles from Spokane came after almost 16 days of frustrating search.

Police checked more than 750 telephone tips and letters from every part of the country. In the search, posters were distributed and rewards totaling $3,500 were offered.

The Washington Water Power Company lowered the level of the Spokane River, Sunday, to expose rock and brush for one last massive search of the area by 250 trained men.

The child's body was found two hours before that search was to start.

Candy was found far from the river area that claimed the lives of three searchers two weeks ago. An air force helicopter crashed into the river and three of the five men aboard were killed.

Liberals Oust W. Australia Labor Gov't

PERTH, Australia (Reuters)—The Labor government in office in Western Australia for six years was defeated by the Liberal-Country Party coalition in elections Saturday. It was announced Sunday.

State Premier Albert Hawke conceded defeat. The Liberal-Country Party coalition—which also forms the present Australian federal government—is expected to have an edge of two seats in the new 50-member legislature.

Further returns in the state of New South Wales, which also voted on Saturday, left the result unchanged—a narrow margin for the ruling Labor party, with an expected 48 seats against 44 for the Liberal-Country coalition, one independent and one undecided.

Liberal Leader David Brand is expected to be the new premier of Western Australia. In the old house his coalition had 19 seats against 29 held by the Labor party and two held by Independents.

U.S. GIVES UP HUNT FOR NOSE CONE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The air force Sunday abandoned search for a knob-shaped nose cone that carried some of the secrets for shielding the ICBM nuclear warheads of the future.

The cone was blasted on a 5,000-mile intercontinental range flight early Saturday by an 80-foot Thor-Able rocket.

When a fleet of C-54 planes and ships called off the hunt late Sunday it meant that the air force had failed for the sixth time in a row in 11 months to recover the cone for study.

CN Engineer Killed As Train Hits Slide

PRINCE RUPERT—The engineer of a Canadian National Railways freight train was killed Saturday when a diesel unit pulling the 57-car train plowed into a snow-and-rock slide near Hazelton, B.C., and then plunged over a bank.

James Huntington, 52, of Smithers, B.C., died in the wreck. The fireman and brakemen aboard the eastbound train rode the diesel unit to a standstill and escaped injury.

The slide was the second within a week on the Prince Rupert-Jasper, Alta., line. A snow, rubble and mud slide last Tuesday wiped out road, rail and telegraph communications between Prince Rupert and Terrace. All were restored later, but the main highway was open only at the public's risk.

FALL KILLS BOY

VANCOUVER—A fall from a backyard fence took the life of a 13-year-old boy, Saturday. Daniel McElean, of Burnaby, slipped while walking along the top of a fence. He went into the house, complained of a severe headache and was taken to hospital. X-rays showed severe concussion and he was brought to hospital here, but died minutes after arrival.

MAN KILLED

LILLOOET—One man was killed and another suffered a broken leg Sunday in a traffic accident near Shalalth, in which a car plunged over a 171-foot bank.

Dead is Lindsay Browning, 34, of Shalalth, 15 miles west of here. Douglas Smith suffered a broken leg in the accident.

BOY RESCUED

NORTH VANCOUVER—Police and firemen used a stretcher and ropes Sunday to rescue an eight-year-old boy who fell more than a third of the way down a 160-foot cliff above the Capilano River here.

The boy, Robert Wakeling, was playing at the top of the cliff when he stumbled and dropped 60 feet down the almost perpendicular wall. He landed in a clump of stumps which stopped him from dropping straight down another 100 feet.

SWEEP WINNER

KELOWNA—A man who won $28,000 when Mr. What ran third in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England, phoned a newspaper here to tell of his good fortune.

Albert Polack, 27, had kept his secret since receiving the news but told reporters he could contain himself no longer.

Polack, who has a job now at a plywood mill here, was unemployed for most of the winter.

He will build a new home for his wife Lydia and their three children.

FOR BARGAINING RIGHTS

Ontario CS Battling

TORONTO (CP)—An estimated 3,000 members of the Ontario Civil Service Association met here Sunday to reaffirm support of demands for collective bargaining rights, grievance procedure and more rapid action on submissions to the Ontario government.

The members jammed a Toronto theatre and overflowed into the main banquet room, for a nearby hotel where they followed proceedings by loud-speaker.

Executive secretary Harold Bowen said his organization was the most mixed-up civil service in Canada.

"We have permanent staff, continuous temporary staff, temporary staff, casual staff and even a class of unestablished laborers," he said.

"We have work weeks of 37½ hours, 40 hours, 42½ hours up to 48 and more hours.

"We have people paid on yearly rates, monthly rates, weekly rates, daily rates and hourly rates.

"Some get three weeks' vacation, some get two weeks and some get none."

Harold J. Mace, association vice-president, said revision of salary schedules is not the prime objective. He listed free collective bargaining as top priority demand, then grievance procedure and finally salary changes.

The meeting applauded the news that the British Columbia association had accepted $1,000 in support of its fight for collective bargaining and moved a resolution of endorsement.

Treasurer H. M. Little was cheered when he said the Ontario association would pledge every financial resource, including reserves, to obtain collective bargaining.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Miss Ruby Simpson was re-elected president this week of the Victoria branch, Victorian Order of Nurses.

Other officers elected were Mrs. W. W. Findlay, first vice-president; Victor Price, second vice-president; Roger Peachey, honorary secretary, and A. J. Round, honorary treasurer.

The Victoria Soaring Club has postponed the launching of its sail plane at Patricia Bay until March 29.

The club was scheduled to get its two-seater plane airborne Sunday, but due to weather conditions, decided to postpone the first flight until next weekend.

David Smith, president, said the sail plane will be launched by a powered aircraft.

The sail plane will be attached by a cable to the aircraft and taken aloft. The cable will then be dropped and the sail plane left to carry on with its soaring.

Ken Avery has been installed as president of Esquimalt Dockyard Branch 172, Canadian Legion.

Other executive members are: first vice-president, J. H. Muldrew; second vice-president, E. M. Mullett; sergeant-at-arms, R. E. Cook; finance chairman, A. I. Thomas; membership, Les Jones; ways and means, Al Allnutt; publicity, A. H. C. Jones; house committee, N. T. Carson; sick and pension, F. J. Stewart; immediate past president, Peter F. Francis; secretary manager, M. F. Francis.

Horace Arthur Randall, 2430 Mowatt, pleaded guilty in Oak Bay police court Friday to operating a fur farm without a licence and was fined $15, the same penalty imposed on five Saanich residents who appeared Thursday in Saanich court on the same charge.

On-the-Spot Pictures Tell Graphic Story of Malahat Car Crashes

Battered victim of Sunday-night Malahat crack-up with five other teen-agers, 17-year-old girl is lifted gently to stretcher by Langford firemen and passersby (left). Another victim, the boy lying on car seat (centre), is comforted by other motorists before ambulance arrived. In an earlier smash, also on the Malahat, the car at right went over a 50-foot tank, seriously injuring occupants. Brian Callaway of Victoria, himself an accident victim earlier last week, examines the wreckage. Ambulance taking injured to hospital also was involved in two accidents.—(Photos by Robin Clarke.)

2 Car Wrecks Send Eight To Hospital

Two auto wrecks on the Malahat sent eight people to hospital here Sunday and nearly wrecked the Langford Ambulance on both emergency runs.

In the first crash at 7:30 p.m. an Alberni couple whose car was being towed by another car plunged 50 feet over a rock-strewn bank at Niagara Canyon about 19 miles north of Victoria.

They were identified as Edward Ernest Thurely, 53, in good condition, and his wife, Mary, 43, in fair condition with multiple injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Six teen-agers from Victoria, five of them still in hospital, received multiple injuries when their 1948 model car veered onto the shoulder of the Malahat at Tunnel Hill at 9 p.m., then went out of control.

ISLAND MAN HIT BY CAR

COURTENAY — James Beston, 35, of Courtenay, who suffered two broken legs Saturday night when hit by a car, was reported today in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph's Hospital at Comox.

According to reports, he was hit while walking on the highway where it passes through the up-Island city.

Girl's Condition Described as 'Fair'

Linda Henley, 17, of 1722 Bay, was described as the most seriously hurt with head and other injuries. Her condition today was "fair" at St. Joseph's Hospital.

When police arrived five of the injured were strewn about the overturned car in the middle of the highway as other motorists and Victoria physician Dr. Jack Anderson attended them.

Others injured were identified as the driver, Francis Gilbert, 19, of 1250 Palmer, who was later discharged with knee and shoulder injuries; Dorothy Leard, 17, of 1502 Gladstone; Jim McMaster, 17, of 1128 Leonard; Bruce Whitten, 17, of 33 Wellington; and William Champion, 18, of 31 Wellington, all in good condition.

Stretcher cases Henley and Whitten and the Champion who was able to sit up after the accident, were taken to Victoria by Langford Ambulance, which crashed into a car, then into a cluster lamp standard on Douglas at Caledonia at 9:40 p.m.

There were no additional injuries and damage to the ambulance was heavy, but it continued to St. Joseph's on its own power.

At 8:22 p.m. one of two cars in the intersection at Douglas and Burnside was sideswiped by the same ambulance as it took the Alberni couple to hospital.

Fire Chief Rod Bayles, who was driving the volunteer ambulance on the first occasion, said the vehicle sustained about $1,000 total damage.

He said after the second accident Dr. Anderson had told the driver, Gustav Klepp, 2866 Peatt, to get the most seriously injured of the teen-agers to hospital with as little delay as possible. An oxygen line feed. Continued on Page 2

Africa Murder Plot Bared by Government

LONDON (Reuters) — A planned African uprising which would have involved the murder of the British governor in Nyasaland as well as white missionaries and women and children was reported today in a government white paper.

The government document published details of the alleged African massacre plot which was the main reason for declaring a state of emergency in the British central African protectorate of Nyasaland. The document was based on a report from the governor of Nyasaland, Sir Robert Armitage. It reported that the plot, to be put into effect on R-Day was drawn up at a secret meeting in Blantyre, the Nyasaland capital, Jan. 25. About 140 delegates of the African National Congress attended the meeting.

The report said: "Those attending were sworn to secrecy under threat of death and such was the effectiveness of this cloak of secrecy that some time elapsed before knowledge of what took place at this meeting became available to the government."

Fraud Charge Laid

NEW YORK (AP) — An indictment charging financier Alexander L. Guterman and three associates with defrauding the Bon Ami Company of $314,600 was returned today in Brooklyn federal court.

C. E. RIVETT-CARNAC
... persuaded to stay on.

FULTON ANNOUNCES

Rivett-Carnac New RCMP Chief

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of deputy commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, 57, as the new commissioner of the RCMP was announced today by Justice Minister Fulton in the Commons.

Deputy commissioner Rivett-Carnac, now on retirement leave, succeeds Leonard Hanse Nicholson, 54, who resigned over police issues involved in the loggers' strike in Newfoundland.

The appointment is effective April 1. Rivett-Carnac has been on retirement leave following completion of 35 years of service in the 5,300-man force. He now is a technical adviser in the commercial production of a series of television films dealing with the RCMP.

The government decided to ask him to remain on duty as RCMP commissioner because of his wide experience and knowledge of the force. He has served in virtually every Canadian region, including a hitch of duty in the northland. A native of Eastbourne, England, he served in the First World War as a teen-age ambulance driver with the Red Cross on the French front.

The tall, husky deputy commissioner is married and father of two daughters.

It was reported that he was selected from about a dozen candidates.

Commissioner Nicholson, 54, quit his $19,000-a-year post March 12 after the government declined to send RCMP reinforcements to Newfoundland to strengthen the RCMP division there on strike duty.

The commissioner said this refusal was a breach of the federal government's police contract with the Newfoundland administration. Justice Minister Fulton disagreed saying it was his responsibility to say whether reinforcements should be sent.

Mounties' Top Man Spent 7 Years Here

Charles Edward Rivett-Carnac was assistant commissioner in charge of "E" Division — with headquarters in Victoria and embracing all B.C. — from 1949 to 1956 when he was appointed deputy commissioner in Ottawa.

He arrived in Canada, from England, at the age of 23, determined to join the RCMP, but quite willing to become a logger if circumstances dictated.

At this time he had already packed in a fair share of "adventure." Son of a deputy inspector-general of police in India, he was educated in England and when just over 16 joined an ambulance unit attached to the French army. For about 18 months he helped carry wounded soldiers from the front line. Then he spent three and a half years in India — running an elephant camp, gathering timber for tea boxes, manag-

SOMMERS JAIL APPEAL AWAITS TOP COURT TEST

VANCOUVER (CP) — The appeal of Robert Sommers and H. Wilson Gray against five-year sentences for bribery and conspiracy was postponed today until after an appeal against conviction is decided by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Angelo Branca, counsel for Sommers, applied for delay today after Mr. Justice F. A. Sheppard told counsel that the appeal against the sentences might mean the two would have to waive their rights to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Tibet Rebels Still Fighting

KALIMPONG, India-Tibet Frontier (UPI)—Anti-Communist fighting against Red Chinese invaders in Tibet is continuing and spreading to other areas than the capital city of Lhasa, Tibetan and other sources here believed today.

These sources in this terminus of the main trade route from Tibet in the foothills of the Himalaya Mountains discounted unconfirmed rumors Sunday that a cease-fire had been reached.

The sources said the Dalai Lama, spiritual and political leader of Tibet's theocratic government, is believed safe and the chances of his being placed under arrest or "spirited away" were considered highly improbable.

Earlier, a report from Taipei, Formosa, quoted a Nationalist Chinese cabinet minister as saying that the anti-Communist revolt in Tibet had spread into Communist China. This official urged the free world to assist the Tibetan revolution lest it become another Hungary.

NEHRU AID ASKED

The entire Tibetan community here — the largest outside of the ancient Himalayan kingdom — is making a determined bid to persuade Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru to intervene and "save Tibet."

Nehru, in a speech to Parliament in New Delhi today, said India would not intervene in the revolt against the Red Chinese. Nehru said the situation in Lhasa, where widespread fighting erupted last week, apparently had quieted down.

There are at least 10,000 Tibetans living in Kalimpong, including hundreds who fled from Communist domination.

This morning, 500 leaders from different Tibetan kidus (social organizations) held a meeting for the first time to rally support for their countrymen.

SIX ABOARD LOST PLANE IN NFLD.

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP)—Ground and air search parties were scouring a small area of western Newfoundland today for a ski-equipped plane carrying six men which apparently made a crash landing Sunday night.

Occupants of the aircraft were identified today as Lee Franklyn, a native of Toronto, the pilot; Hugh Wadden, 26, a native of Glace Bay, N.S.; Anthony Head, 21, Robert O'Toole, 24, Norman Higgin, 22, and Gus Soper, all of Buchans.

The plane was returning to Buchans, 50 miles east of here, after the community's hockey team played a game in the Newfoundland Senior B semifinals. Five of those aboard were team members.

Ottawa Plans Boost in Grants

OTTAWA (CP) — A greater role for the army and increased financial aid to provincial and municipal organizations are proposed under a new Canadian civil defence setup announced today by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The federal government henceforth will bear 75 per cent of the cost of approved provincial and municipal civil defence projects instead of 50 per cent as now.

The new setup resulted from a review of Canada's civil defence organization by Lt.-Gen. Howard D. Graham, who undertook it last year on his retirement as chief of the army's general staff.

Mr. Diefenbaker said in the Commons that as a result of this review it is proposed to transfer certain civil defence responsibilities, insofar as the federal government is concerned, and to offer to assume directly certain responsibilities hitherto borne by the provinces and municipalities.

"The principal change proposed," he said, "is that the army should undertake primary and direct responsibility for a number of the technical civil defence functions heretofore carried by the civil defence organizations at the federal, provincial and municipal levels."

Troops Will Do the 'Danger Jobs'

These will include the warning of attack, the location and monitoring of explosions and radio-active fallout, the assessment of damaged areas, decontamination and clearing of such locales.

For this purpose the prime minister informed the Commons, the army will need not only its own reserve force but also the assistance of various local auxiliaries. The army will arrange with provincial and local authorities for the latter.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government believes the major humanitarian tasks should remain the direct responsibility of provincial authorities, in war, as they are in peace, but with increased financial and technical assistance from the federal government.

These tasks include provision of medical and hospital services for the injured and sick, public health measures and emergency billeting and other accommodation for those who must evacuate their homes.

U.S. ACCUSES SOVIET SHIP OF CABLE CUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today tentatively accused the Soviet fishing trawler Novorossisk of responsibility in the breaking of five trans-Atlantic cables off Newfoundland last month. The U.S. demanded that the Soviet government take steps to prevent such damage in the future.

Mac, Ike in Compromise On Summit Meet Approach

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan and President Eisenhower have agreed to a three-point approach to a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this summer.

It was learned today that this was the compromise formula agreed on in talks at Camp David, Md., Saturday.

Now under discussion by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle, it represents a compromise between Macmillan's firm desire to meet with Khrushchev and Eisenhower's reluctance to meet without promise of achievement.

The three points are these: 1. The Big Four powers—the United States, Britain, France and Russia—should open a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva May 11; Khrushchev has already substantially agreed to this. The foreign ministers should reach agreements on the widest possible range of German and related problems, try to narrow Soviet-Western differences and prepare proposals for a later summit conference.

2. Heads of government should hold their meeting when justified by the work of the foreign ministers.

3. The foreign ministers therefore would have the responsibility of determining the time, place and subject matter of the summit conference.

The proposal covering these points was drafted by Macmillan and Eisenhower for inclusion in Western notes expected to go to Moscow later this week. Khrushchev has been pressing for a summit conference for many months. Macmillan feels the Western heads of government must negotiate with Khrushchev even if the foreign ministers' conference is a failure. Eisenhower feels every effort must be made to get basic progress toward a solution of the Berlin crisis and some start on other German problems at the foreign ministers' meeting.

Y' only git a good view from th' Summit if y' kin see somebody else's besides yer own.

With Mister Fulton an' th' Mounties it ain't "take me t' yer leader" it's take yer leader from me.

LONDON — The sight of two pretty girls hula-hooping in swim suits on the sunny deck of the Royal Yacht Britannia was just too agonizing for 250 crew members far from home.

Reports reaching London said the trouble is all settled now and the girls are twirling their hoops in the privacy of their cabins.

Anne Stevenson and Julie Vaughan-Hudson are secretaries aboard the yacht carrying Prince Philip to the Solomon Islands on part of his world tour.

Crew members made a respectful complaint that the spectacle on the officers' recreation deck was distracting to conscientious sailors.

They reminded officers that they hadn't had shore leave or feminine company for seven weeks.

And, besides, they said the officers' recreation deck was so far away that they had to watch through binoculars.

EDINBURGH—Actor A. E. Matthews, 89, appearing in a comedy here, told a reporter he's giving up whisky and saving his money. "When a man is getting on for 90—which I will be in November—it's time for him to start thinking about his future," he said.

MODESTO, Calif.—Modesto Junior College's people packers have claimed still another record for sardining a telephone booth—33 students—but rival schools might call it a phony.

They announced Saturday that they had crammed 32 students in a regulation booth, 34x34x84 inches. South Africa last week had boasted of getting 25 students in a phone kiosk.

But in increasing the squash figure to 33, the Modesto students admitted that all were standing up in the booth which was placed horizontally on its back with the doors removed.

Jerry Miller, sophomore investigator of the stunt, said "technically, I suppose, they were not all the way inside. Anyhow, I'd like to know just exactly how the other schools are doing it."

"We got 20 guys in the booth in layers yesterday and then decided it was impossible to get any more than that. Those South African students must be pygmies."

LONDON—Actor Rex Harrison watched his son Noel wed Montreal-born model Mrs. Sara Tufnell at a register office ceremony Sunday.

Mrs. Tufnell, 23, was sometimes squired by the Duke of Kent after her former marriage was dissolved. Noel Harrison, 25, is a television guitar player.

ALLIES PLAN PRE-SESSION

LONDON (Reuters) — The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will meet in Washington March 31 and April 1 to exchange views before a possible conference with Russia, it was announced today.

Nine Die In U.S. Mine Blast

ROBBINS, Tenn. (UPI) — An explosion ripped through a small coal mine in the Tennessee hill country today, killing nine men working in the main shaft, the Scott County sheriff reported.

Five bodies were recovered by noon. Crews working to reach the others reported there was little chance that any were alive.

The explosion occurred about a mile from the entrance to the mine.

WIRE BRIEFS

Burned Woman Dies

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — A Whidbey Island housewife, Mrs. Marjorie Dunevan, 55, whose clothing caught fire as she was cooking Sunday dinner, died today in hospital.

Red Sailors Rescued

THE HAGUE (Reuters) — A West German freighter sailed toward Bremerhaven today with 40 Russian sailors she rescued after colliding with a Soviet vessel off West Germany's North Sea coast Sunday night.

Fire Victim 'Poor'

PENTICTON (CP) — Joseph Powell, 56, was in poor condition in Summerland Hospital today with third-degree burns suffered when an oil stove exploded Saturday night.

LANGFORD—Don Richardson, from Victoria, will take the Sunday services at Langford and Luxton Baptist Churches until a permanent pastor is secured. Service at Luxton is at 11:15 a.m. and at Langford at 7:15 p.m.

POPE JOHN ... feet washing

Ancient Rite Revived By Pope John

VATICAN CITY (Reuters) — Pope John will revive the ancient custom of washing the feet of 12 poor men — as Christ did with his apostles — a Vatican source said today.

The Pope will perform the ceremony Thursday at the patriarchal Archbasilica of St. John Lateran.

The ceremony concludes with a prayer: "That as here and outward stains are washed away for us and by us, so the inward sins of us all may be washed away by Thee."

The last Pope to wash the feet of the poor was Pius IX, who died in 1878 after a 32-year reign.

Death Sentence Ordered in Ont.

KENORA, Ont. (CP) — An Assize Court jury here has convicted Thomas Young of the Christmas Day murder of Ontario provincial police constable Calvin Russell Fulrod. Young, 27, was sentenced to be hanged June 30.

Young was tried for the rifle slaying of the police officer, who was killed in a burst of shots from a shack at Ear Falls. Four other persons were also shot dead, one of them the accused's father, Albert Young.

ing the unconscious Linda Henley was severed in the crash.

The ambulance was going at about 40 miles an hour with siren and red light working when it crashed, the driver said.

It was the first time the Langford ambulance had an accident in its seven years of operation.

FREAK MISHAP

Colwood RCMP described the first Malahat accident as a freak. The Thurlay car, a small English model, was being towed north by another car driven by David Stanley Garman, 1045 Vista, using a length of rope.

Suddenly there was some slack in the rope and the small car's right wheel ran over it, causing the length to wrap around the wheel and pull the vehicle out of control.

It swerved off the pavement and over the right bank, rolling and smashing down the rocks. It was a total wreck.

The second crash was caused when the teen-agers' car veered onto the shoulder as it travelled south, came back onto the hard top out of control, struck a rock bank, flipped over and landed on its roof in the middle of the highway.

Man Trapped 1,000 Feet Down Cave

CASTLETON, England (UPI) — A 20-year-old Oxford student was trapped unconscious in a crevice 1,000 feet below the surface today in nearby Devil's Hole Cave. Rescuers tried to pull him out, but the rope broke.

Neil Moss became wedged in the crevice Sunday while exploring the famous "Peak cavern" in the Derbyshire hills with a group of seven students.

Nearly 100 rescue workers worked through the night to get him out before the foul air in the hole snuffs out his life. They supplied him with oxygen through a tube leading into the crevice.

Canada Orders U.S. Planes

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has ordered 10 SA-16 seaplanes from Grumman Aircraft Company of Long Island, N.Y., for the RCAF, it was learned today.

The planes, for the RCAF Search and Rescue Service, will be manufactured by Grumman in the United States.

Canadian manufacturers may supply spare parts and engines only.

Announcement on purchase of the seaplanes was given to the Air Industries and Transport Association by D. L. Thompson, director of the aircraft branch of the defence production department.

On March 2, Defence Minister Pearkes informed the Commons that RCAF teams visited the Grumman plant on Long Island last Oct. 30 and Nov. 1 to find out whether Grumman would permit production of the seaplane under licence by Avro Aircraft Limited, Malton, Ont. Avro was hit hard Feb. 20 by cancellation of the Arrow jet interceptor program.

Eleven Arrested by FBI In Newspaper Puzzle 'Fix'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal Bureau of Investigation today announced the arrests of 11 persons in what it described as a swindle involving newspaper puzzle contests.

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said the swindle operations "crossed the U.S. Canadian border."

FBI agents today picked up four persons in Oregon, three in Michigan, two in Pennsylvania and one each in Indiana and Wisconsin.

They were charged with conspiracy to violate the federal mail fraud and fraud by wire statutes.

Similar charges have been filed against two other persons in Canada and a resident of Minnesota. None of these three is in custody.

Two Portland, Ore., newspapers — The Oregonian and The Journal — announced several weeks ago they had heard reports of a "fix" on newspaper puzzle contests. They dropped such contests from their papers and asked the FBI to investigate.

Hoover's announcement said the investigation showed that answers to puzzle contests conducted by two New York City feature syndicates, obtained in advance by a devious scheme, were used in winning more than $45,000 between November, 1958, and February of this year.

The FBI said the ringleaders in the operation established a base in Canada and subscribed to the puzzle feature services, using the name and address of a non-existent newspaper company which they called "Suburban Publishers, Limited, 220 Epworth, London, Ont."

The FBI said the feature services do not furnish contest answers to a subscribing newspaper but supply them to a bank to be held in confidence until the deadline has passed for submission of solutions.

Hoover said "Suburban Publishers" supplied the syndicates with the name of a fictitious bank, the "Middlesex Trust Company," with the mailing address P.O. Box 699, Byron, Ont., Canada.

The puzzle answers sent to this box were picked up by the ringleaders in Canada. Others living in the United States entered the contests with the benefit of solutions supplied by telephone from either Detroit or Canada. The individual winners, the FBI said, were allowed to keep a small share of the prize money while the bulk of the cash was delivered to the ring's Canadian headquarters.

Hoover said the use of interstate communications brought federal law into play.

FRIENDS RALLY ROUND

4-Day Coma Ends For Victoria Boy

David Harvey came out of his four-day coma Sunday following an intricate brain operation in Vancouver's Crease Clinic, sat up in bed and asked for a magazine to read.

"We are so tremendously happy," his mother, Mrs. Ted Harvey, 1817 Quadra, said today.

"So many of his former friends didn't know about his trouble. Now they do know, thanks to a story that appeared in the Times. They have sent him cards, and two of his best friends plan to go over next weekend."

The former Victoria College student, now 19, has had re-

curing brain trouble since a fall six years ago.

KELOWNA (CP)—Kelowna Teddy Bears captured their second straight British Columbia senior "B" women's basketball title, whipping Victoria B's 48-24 Saturday night.

Teddy Bears put up a sparkling zone defence which forced Victoria to shoot from well outside. More than 200 fans saw the game.

In an earlier match, Vancouver C-Fun took third place in the four-team playoff with a close 40-36 victory over Trail Silverettes.

Kelowna jumped into a 10-5 first quarter lead, 18-14 at half time and then pulled away in the last half, outscoring Victoria 30-10.

The game climaxed two undefeated seasons for Kelowna. Anita Stewart paced Teddy Bears with 12 points with Marg Vansantan and Frances Taylor adding eight each.

Bey Walls and Ev Donaldson paced Victoria, each with six points.

Earlier on Sunday, Victoria reached the final by defeating Trail, 58-38. The B's dropped their opening game of the play-off Friday night.

Vancouver jumped into an

8-0 lead in the first quarter and then held off the charging Silverettes the remainder of the way in the preliminary match.

Ann Winteringham led the way with 12 points.

Wrecks

Two auto wrecks on the Malahat sent eight people to hospital here Sunday and nearly wrecked the Langford Ambulance on both emergency runs.

In the first crash at 7.30 p.m. an Alberni couple whose car was being towed by another car plunged 50 feet over a rock-strewn bank at Niagara Canyon about 19 miles north of Victoria.

They were identified as Edward Ernest Thurler, 53, in good condition, and his wife, Mary, 43, in fair condition with multiple injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Six teen-agers from Victoria, five of them still in hospital, received multiple injuries when their 1948 model car

ISLAND MAN
HIT BY CAR

COURTENAY — James Beston, 35, of Courtenay, who suffered two broken legs Saturday night when hit by a car, was reported today in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph's Hospital at Comox.

According to reports, he was hit while walking on the highway where it passes through the up-island city.

veered onto the shoulder of the Malahat at Tunnel Hill at 9 p.m., then went out of control, struck a rock bank and flipped onto its roof.

Linda Henley, 17, of 1722 Bay, was described as the most seriously hurt with head and other injuries. Her condition today was "fair" at St. Joseph's Hospital.

When police arrived five of the injured were strewn about the overturned car in the middle of the highway as other motorists and Victoria physician Dr. Jack Anderson, attended them.

Others injured were identified as the driver, Francis Gilbert, 19, of 1250 Palmer, who was later discharged with knee and shoulder injuries; Dorothy Leard, 17, of 1502 Gladstone; Jim McMaster, 17, of 1128 Leonard; Bruce Whitten, 17, of 53 Wellington; and William Champion, 18, of 31 Wellington, all in good condition.

Stretcher cases Henley and Whitten and the Champion boy who was able to sit up after the accident, were taken to Victoria by Langford Ambulance, which crashed into a car, then into a cluster lamp standard on Douglas at Caledonia at 9.40 p.m.

There were no additional injuries and damage to the ambulance was heavy, but it continued to St. Joseph's on its own power.

At 8.22 p.m. one of two cars in the intersection at Douglas and Burnside was sideswiped by the same ambulance as it took the Alberni couple to hospital.

Fire Chief Rod Bayles, who was driving the volunteer ambulance on the first occasion, said the vehicle sustained about $1,000 total damage.

He said after the second accident Dr. Anderson had told the driver, Gustav Klepp, 2866 Peatt, to get the most seriously injured of the teen-agers to hospital with as little delay as possible. An oxygen line feed.

LOST PLANE
SIGHTED; 6
MEN SAFE

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — A ski-equipped Otter with six men aboard has been spotted from the air near Badger, Nfld., its six occupants apparently safe.

Occupants of the aircraft were identified today as Lee Franklin, a native of Toronto, the pilot; Hugh Wadden, 26, a native of Glace Bay, N.S.; Anthony Head, 21, Robert O'Toole, 24, Norman Higden, 22, and Gus Soper, all of Buchans.

The plane was returning to Buchans, 50 miles east of here, after the community's hockey team played a game in the Newfoundland Senior B semi-finals. Five of those aboard were team members.

Three-Point Plan Set
In Approach to Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan and President Eisenhower have proposed that the Western Allies adopt a three-point approach to a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this summer.

It was learned today that this was the compromise formula agreed on in talks at Camp David, Md., Saturday.

Now under discussion by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle, it represents a compromise between Macmillan's firm desire to meet with Khrushchev and Eisenhower's reluctance to meet without promise of achievement.

The three points are these:

1. The Big Four powers — the United States, Britain, France and Russia — should open a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva May 11; Khrushchev has already substantially agreed to this. The foreign ministers should reach agreements on the widest possible range of German and related problems, try to narrow Soviet-

Western differences and prepare proposals for a later summit conference.

2. Heads of government should hold their meeting when justified by the work of the foreign ministers.

3. The foreign ministers therefore would have the responsibility of determining the time, place and subject matter of the summit conference.

The proposal covering these points was drafted by Macmillan and Eisenhower for inclusion in Western notes expected to go to Moscow later this week. Khrushchev has been pressing for a summit conference for many months.

Macmillan feels the Western heads of government must negotiate with Khrushchev even if the foreign ministers' conference is a failure. Eisenhower feels every effort must be made to get basic progress toward a solution of the Berlin crisis and some start on other German problems at the foreign ministers' meeting.

PM PROPOSES CANADA SITE

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today in the Commons he proposed to Prime Minister Macmillan here last week that if a summit conference were called it be held in Canada.

He indicated Quebec City would be a good site.

ARMY TAKES
IN NEW CDTibet
Battle
Spreads

KALIMPONG, India-Tibet Frontier (UPI) — Anti-Communist fighting against Red Chinese invaders in Tibet is continuing and spreading to other areas than the capital city of Lhasa, Tibetan and other sources here believed today.

These sources in this terminus of the main trade route from Tibet in the foothills of the Himalaya Mountains discounted unconfirmed rumors Sunday that a cease-fire had been reached.

The sources said the Dalai Lama, spiritual and political leader of Tibet's theocratic government, is believed safe and the chances of his being placed under arrest or "spirited away" were considered highly improbable.

(Earlier, a report from Taipei, Formosa, quoted a Nationalist Chinese cabinet minister as saying that the anti-Communist revolt in Tibet had spread into Communist China. This official urged the free world to assist the Tibetan revolution lest it become another Hungary.)

NEHRU AID ASKED — The entire Tibetan community here — the largest outside of the ancient Himalayan kingdom — is making a determined bid to persuade Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru to intervene and "save Tibet."

Nehru, in a speech to Parliament in New Delhi today, said India would not intervene in the revolt against the Red Chinese. Nehru said the situation in Lhasa, where widespread fighting erupted last week, apparently had quieted down.

There are at least 10,000 Tibetans living in Kalimpong, including hundreds who fled from Communist domination.

This morning, 500 leaders from different Tibetan kiduks (social organizations) held a meeting for the first time to rally support for their countrymen.

C. E. RIVETT-CARNAC
... staying onNew Chief
Named

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of deputy commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, 57, as the new commissioner of the RCMP was announced today by Justice Minister Fulton in the Commons.

Deputy commissioner Rivett-Carnac, now on retirement leave, succeeds Leonard Hanse Nicholson, 54, who resigned over police issues involved in the loggers' strike in Newfoundland.

The appointment is effective April 1.

Rivett-Carnac has been on retirement leave following completion of 35 years of service in the 5,300-man force. He now is a technical adviser in the commercial production of a series of television films dealing with the RCMP.

The government decided to ask him to remain on duty as RCMP commissioner because of his wide experience and knowledge of the force. He has served in virtually every Canadian region, including a hitch of duty in the northland.

A native of Eastbourne, England, he served in the First World War as a teen-age army trainee.

Boost in Grants
Set by Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — A greater role for the army and increased financial aid to provincial and municipal organizations are proposed under a new Canadian civil defence setup announced today by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The federal government henceforth will bear 75 per cent of the cost of approved provincial and municipal civil defence projects instead of 50 per cent as now.

The new setup resulted from a review of Canada's civil defence organization by Lt.-Gen. Howard D. Graham, who undertook it last year on his retirement as chief of the army's general staff.

Mr. Diefenbaker said in the Commons that as a result of this review it is proposed to transfer certain civil defence responsibilities, insofar as the federal government is concerned, and to offer to assume directly certain responsibilities hitherto borne by the provinces and municipalities.

"The principal change proposed," he said, "is that the army should undertake primary and direct responsibility for a number of the technical civil defence functions heretofore carried by the civil defence organizations at the federal, provincial and municipal levels."

Troops Will Do the 'Danger Jobs'

These will include the warning of attack, the location and monitoring of explosions and radio-active fallout, the assessment of damaged areas, decontamination and clearing of such locales.

For this purpose the prime minister informed the Commons, the army will need not only its own reserve force but also the assistance of various local auxiliaries. The army will arrange with provincial and local authorities for the latter.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government believes the major humanitarian tasks should remain the direct responsibility of provincial authorities in war, as they are in peace, but with increased financial and technical assistance from the federal government.

These tasks include provision of medical and hospital services for the injured and sick, public health measures and emergency billeting and other accommodation for those who must evacuate their homes, and emergency feeding and other welfare services.

Federal assistance to the provinces would remain the responsibility of the health department.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government is agreeable that provincial and municipal civil defence facilities for which it may share the cost should also be made available in time of peacetime disasters.

BULLETINS

Eight Red MiGs Buzz Quemoy Islands

TAIPEI (UPI) — Eight Communist Chinese MiGs flew directly over the shell-battered Quemoy Islands today for the first time in months.

The Soviet-built jet fighters circled the cluster of 14 Nationalist-held islands and then flew away, the defence department said.

Police Probe Woman's Disappearance

NAPANEE, Ont. (CP) — Police said today they are investigating the "very mysterious" disappearance of Mrs. Carola Ham, 70, aunt of former German General Kurt Meyer.

The wealthy woman, who lived alone on a 214-acre cattle farm near this town 20 miles west of Kingston, was reported missing Friday.

'Sunglass Bandit' Flees With $5,000

TORONTO (CP) — An armed bandit wearing heavy sunglasses robbed a downtown branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia today and escaped with about $5,000. Police said the bandit shaved a note at a teller demanding money.

SOMMERS JAIL APPEAL
AWAITS TOP COURT TEST

VANCOUVER (CP) — The appeal of Robert Sommers and H. Wilson Gray against five-year sentences for bribery and conspiracy was postponed today until after an appeal against conviction is decided by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Angelo Branca, counsel for Sommers, applied for delay today after Mr. Justice F. A. Sheppard told counsel that the appeal against the sentences might mean the two would have to waive their rights to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.
